Cat Welfare Trust

The Cat fancy's own Charity. established
1988 Registered Charity No. 800719

...A lasting legacy for cats...

The Cat Welfare Trust is the Fancy's own charity, set up by the GCCF in 1988. The Trust Deed was written to enable funds to be used for the widest possible range of activities to benefit cats.

Three projects have been undertaken so far, all of which have been funded because the subjects were of particular interest to pedigree cat owners and were not likely to attract commercial funding in their initial stages.

The first of these was a Ph.D. research project to study the preparation of a vaccine for ringworm and was undertaken by Ann Robinson at Bristol University Veterinary School. The second - the Genome Project was undertaken by Dr Matthew Binns of the Animal Health Trust and resulted in the identification and analysis of 211 markers on the feline genome map. The most recent - a study into feline chronic gingivostomatitis - was carried out by Kitty Healey at the University of Liverpool. Chronic gingivostomatitis is a condition familiar to many cat owners. This is a very painful disease affecting the gums and mouths of pet cats causing inflammation and ulceration and there is currently no cure for this condition. Kitty's research has established a link between this condition and FCV reinforcing the need for regular vaccination. Kitty's thesis can be seen on the GCCF website.

The current project is a study by Bristol University in conjunction with Manchester University and University of California-Davis into the role of genes in the control of infectious diseases.

Please consider a gift in your Will

All legacies, whether big or small can make a crucial contribution. They allow the Cat Welfare Trust to support vital research work into feline health problems. No legacy income is spent on overheads or general administration - it is used right at the heart of the work of the Trust. Legacies are used exclusively to support research projects, not administration or overheads, so the full value of each gift goes directly into project work and makes a real difference.

Legacy gifts take all forms and can include money or chattels. Any sum helps. The Cat Welfare Trust takes great pains to use funds wisely and effectively for the benefit of all cats.

Whatever sum you give—however large or small— your gift counts. Thank you.

Donations for the Cat Welfare Trust should be sent to The Cat Welfare Trust, c/o GCCF, 5 King's Castle Business Park, The Drove, Bridgwater, TA6 4AG. Further information is also available from the GCCF Office.

For further information please contact the Secretary of the CWT Rosemary Fisher via the above address or by emailing info@gccfcats.org for Rosemary's attention.

CHAIRMAN'S WELCOME

I would sincerely like to welcome you all to the 41st GCCF Supreme Cat Show. On behalf of the Board & myself I would very much like to thank Lynda Ashmore for stepping up and taking over the show management at such short notice. The workings that go on behind the scenes for a show of this size and magnitude are immense, as such I can't mention all names for fear of leaving someone out unintentionally who may well be pivotal, though I do need to mention some specifically:

Ian Macro/Sally Rainbow-Ockwell for their IT skills

Georgina Anderson-Keeble: Press and Publicity

Bob Towner: Hall Manager

Sally Tokens: Pedigree Section Manager

Lesley Szwed: Pet Section Manager

Mark Goadby for the hall plans

Sue Moreland/Lorraine Allan: Duty Vets and their team

Ring Supervisors/Ring Managers and their respective teams

Judges and their stewards

Daphne and Steve Butters for all their assistance for Meet the Breeds

MF Penning for the set up and penning

Our partners Royal Canine and Agria Pet Insurance for their continued support and sponsorship including trophy awards for which we are immensely grateful

Pebble Events for the stage, sound and general set up

GCCF office Staff for their support and

Last but by no means least, exhibitors for their entry.

The show planning commences with the GCCF Supreme Show Committee, the vast majority (though not all) being very recent appointments. Too many jobs to mention individually.

All have gone to great lengths to ensure this will be a memorable show, and it will include the launch of the new Logo, special certificates for class winners, new corporate coloured Rosettes and much, much more including Adult & Junior Cuddly Toy competition: this is being arranged and judged by our YES scheme candidates, and lots of art work from local schools.

We will also, as in previous years, be having special kitten classes. In addition, we are introducing a Tabby Class will be judged at the pens, this will be based purely on condition, presentation and temperament and be split if entries permit. This is in remembrance of our former Show Manager, Celia Leighton.

Many thanks to Bob Towner for the donation of prize money for these classes.

We are also having a two grooming demonstrations, with Tania Murray; these will take place in the picket fenced area in front of the main stage, so come along and watch some grooming as well as Ian Beasley and yours truly having their heads shaved. This is in aid of McMillan Trust Cancer Care and we hope you will support this with sponsorship. Thank you Ian for sharing the experience.

We will also have Shirlaine Forrest as our Official GCCF Supreme Cat Show Photographer for today's event. She will be shooting portraits and candid shots of the cats and exhibitors for GCCF as well as for Getty Images to be sent to press. If you do NOT wish your cat to be photographed, please let Shirlaine know, or place a 'no photography' sign on your pen. Images will be available to purchase after the event. You may also want to visit Shirlaine to have some studio shots. Please make sure your exhibit is not required for judging before arranging this. Shirlaine's details are:

w - www.shirlaine.co.uk, e - shirlaine@hotmail.co.uk, m - 07905 451822, fb - /shirlaineforrest, t - @shirlainephoto, i - shirlaine_forrest

Please remember this is your show. If you have ideas on how we can make it better please let one of the show team know and if considered practicable we will try to incorporate at future shows. A very warm welcome - enjoy your day.

John H Hansson

QUICK FACTS ABOUT THIS TYPE OF CAT

BREED: Devon Rex

COLOUR: Chocolate Smoke and White Bicolour (DRX bs 03)

SEX: Female – one day old

AT THIS SHOW YOU WILL FIND THIS BREED OF CAT BEING JUDGED IN RING: 4

Viktori also stars with her mum Gracie in the Crystal Clear advert. She was 4 weeks old in the advert so you can see the HUGE difference 4 weeks makes to a kitten growing up – Remember GCCF advises that kittens should NOT leave home until they are 12 to 13 weeks of age.

CATALOGUE CONTRIBUTORS ET ALL

The following people have made contribution to the GCCF Supreme Cat Show Catalogue this year. They have either given their time and expertise or else shared wonderful photos of their beloved cats freely so they can be appreciated by everyone, and in some cases both...

A huge thank you must go to Peter Sharp, the husband of the late Juanita Sharp. Juanita sadly passed away in 2015, in the middle of doing what she loved best, working at a cat show. She was a funny, brilliant, kind and compassionate lady, who bred the most beautiful Burmese Cats. She was one of the Regional Advisors for the Burmese Cat Club as well as being a GCCF Steward and trainee Show Manager. She was also just about to become a Probationer Judge, and like everything else she turned her hand to, she would have been fabulous.. In the middle of juggling her busy life, Juanita also worked through the International Cat Care distance learning courses. In 2014 Juanita scored the highest marks on their Advanced Certificate in Cat Health and Welfare (Breeding). In 2015 Juanita wrote a series of articles for the Burmese Cat Club News. We are very fortunate that Peter Sharp has given permission for them to be updated and used in this catalogue, factually describing the a core of the ethos to which the GCCF subscribe. When it comes to cats – Health, Welfare, Care and understanding will always come first.

SHOW MANAGERS WELCOME

SUPREME SHOW MANAGER

MRS LYNDA ASHMORE

Who would have thought when I entered the first Supreme show in 1976 that 40 years later I would be appointed its show manager. This show has always been the highlight of the show calendar which I have had the pleasure of attending every year except one when I was too poorly to get out of bed. I've helped man the door, sold catalogues, been a ring manager, stewarded and judged.

Devoid of any kind of ambition, I had no aspirations to be anything other than an exhibitor but my dear friend and mentor Carol Barnes saw something in me I didn't know was there and invited me to be one of her section managers at the Yorkshire County Cat Club show. I was incredibly nervous about taking on the role, but must have done a fair job as she went on to have me as her assistant and I remained so until her untimely death at the age of just 51 and am still the Yorkshire's show manager to this day.

On this special occasion I wanted to take the opportunity to pay tribute to those who have gone before me so what follows is the role call of Supreme show managers along with the dates and venues, which I thought might be of interest.

I have had the good fortune to have the help of our exhibition organiser John Hansson who has done so much and the Supreme committee and the GCCF office staff who have been so supportive and taken on a variety of jobs. My sincere thanks to all of you.

There have been a few changes, a new logo and different rosettes etc. In line with the GCCF corporate colours, the fact that purple is my favourite colour is purely coincidental!

All that remains for me to say, although a somewhat daunting task and one I would never have put myself forward for, it has been my great pleasure to help put this show together.

I hope that win or lose you enjoy the day and will continue to support this unique event which is the GCCF Supreme Show!!

Stay safe and happy

SUPREME GRAND CHAMPION PREMONTRE TANCRED.

He was born on the 05/08/1977 to Mrs Betty Shingleton, one of the GCCF's current Vice-Presidents. At the time Tancred won the Supreme show, there were no Olympian, Imperial or UK titles available so a Supreme Gr Champion was the top of the tree.

PROUD HERITAGE AND FUTURE INNOVATION

The first official cat show was held at the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, on Thursday 13th July 1871. The show was such a success that the Directors of Crystal Palace arranged for another to take place in December of the same year and the cat fancy was born. As we approach the 150th anniversary of that first show it is good to reflect on how our interests, views and attitudes have changed and to consider what the cat fancy might look like in the future.

Just because something has worked for some time does not mean that it will continue, nor that there is not a better way of doing it. Since the late 19th century there has been a revolution in the way we regard our cats and why and how we keep them. Then, pedigree cat ownership, breeding and showing was the preserve of the wealthy, privileged classes. Other people, if they kept a cat, did so mainly out of habit or to control vermin. Cats were then much more vulnerable to disease and feline veterinary medicine was primitive, uniformed and often uninterested in addressing the needs of cats, who were regarded as of little value and disposable when compared with much more valuable farm animals or dogs.

During the 20th century things began to change, people in general became more affluent and pedigree cat ownership became popular among a greater proportion of the general population. The GCCF was established in 1910 to provide a central register for pedigree cat breeds and to license cat shows, ensuring all followed a common format and set of rules. The cat fancy grew swiftly between the two world wars as did the number of shows – during the 1920s there was a cat show somewhere almost every week of the year, and the early breeds – the Persian, British Shorthair, Siamese and Abyssinian - became well established and increasingly popular as pets.

War took a great toll on the hobby during the 1940s when many breeders stopped breeding and shows were virtually non-existent for five years. Many thought that the end of the Cat Fancy had come with veterinary surgeons sickened by the thousands of cats they had to put down as families were split up, children evacuated and men called up. Famous studs and queens were neutered and very few people had pedigree kittens for sale.

Yet the cat fancy did survive, with the first post war show held late in 1945, people's thirst for normality and the hobbies they'd enjoyed in the past saw cat breeding and showing gain an even greater popularity as the UK moved into the second half of the century. During the period up to the 1980s, the number of new breeds, cat clubs and shows increased rapidly, by the mid-80s there were over 80 clubs affiliated to GCCF. New breeds such as the Burmese, Oriental, Korat, Turkish Van, Norwegian Forest, Devon and Cornish Rex, and latterly Maine Coon, Ocicat, Exotic and Asian to name only some, added to the range and variety of pedigree cats available. Registration numbers began to outgrow the rather informal structures of the GCCF, which still relied on a few registrars working from home and using index cards to record every pedigree kitten registered. Modernisation was long overdue and a major investment was made by clubs and GCCF in the establishment of a central office and computerised register during the four years from 1983-87.

In the twenty five years following the fancy and number of cat clubs and breeds continued to grow (there are now over 150 member clubs), but little was done to invest in further modernisation of the IT systems, registrations processes and practices, or in the structure and governance of the organisation itself. It was as the GCCF prepared to celebrate its centenary in 2010 that the realisation grew that we needed to once more make a major step-change in the way we operated, registrations had started to decline and finances were less secure. It was time to put our organisation on a more business like footing if GCCF was to continue to be viable organisation in the 21st century.

Over the past six years GCCF has become an incorporated not-for-profit company, entered into two valuable commercial partnerships, which have helped to grow its turnover, invested in a new bespoke IT system based around on-line access to all its services, and raised its profile and influence as a body working for the long-term welfare of cats. The way people live, keep their pets and their attitudes towards animal welfare have all changed markedly since the 19th century. If GCCF is to remain not just relevant, but central to the world of pedigree cats, then it must take a much more proactive role and provide a lead in setting the standards all should aspire to in the breeding and keeping of cats.

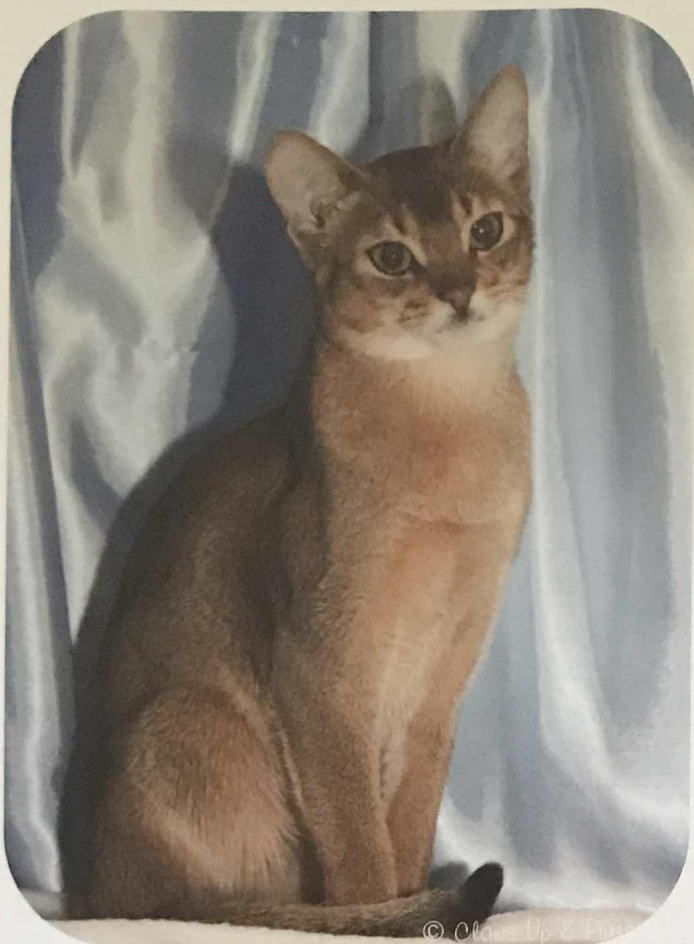

The availability of much more scientific information on cat genetics and both genetic-based and infection-based disease, has broadened our knowledge and understanding and allows us to use tests, vaccines and other interventions to demonstrate we are highly responsible and caring cat owners.

We now have in place clear policies on breeding for genetic health, on refusing recognition to breeds which cannot enjoy a normal healthy life, and are looking to provide a voice for pedigree cats within all aspects of the cat world. Working with other cat charities, food manufacturers and even with politicians and government agencies to ensure pedigree cat breeds are understood, treated fairly and valued in society. The expectations of the wider public with regard to animal, and specifically cat, welfare has also changed. GCCF needs to be able to respond to that, and to have a strong voice, one that is listened to, if we are to ensure that our precious hobby is properly understood and we are to be acknowledged as a responsible and ethical organisation.

To achieve this we must continue the work we have started: to educate people about our breeds and to counter views that they are unhealthy or that our breeding practices do not prioritise the health and welfare of all the pedigree cats, and popularity of cats as pets continues and that we must ensure that we promote good cat husbandry and proper understanding of cat behaviour and how to meet the full needs of our pets while pursuing our busy and sometime hectic lives.

Today's society wants, and is used to, instant access to information and services available 24 hours a day so GCCF needs to step up a gear with swift turn-around times on everything from registrations and transfers through to requests for information or advice. It needs to broaden its horizons further and offer a wrap-around service to the wider cat fancy, be it to owners, breeders, exhibitors, show managers, judges, or the general public interested in owning a cat. Good communication and customer service are key as is being open to new ideas and opportunities.

We also need to encourage young people into our hobby, making it attractive and relevant to their lives; as they will ultimately ensure its future. This is the primary focus of our plans, both short and long-term.

We have our own scheme in place, though still in its infancy called YES, where young people, aged 8 to 16 learn how to care for cats and show them. They also learn about stewarding and working behind the scenes in running a show, with the hope that some will become the next generation of our breeders and judges.

As an organisation we will continue to invest in the steady on-going development of all our services and look to build in the flexibility to meet changing priorities and demands. We cannot afford to rest on our laurels, instead we need to constantly question the way we do things, to look for better, more cost effective, more interactive ways of operating.

Good communication is the key, so please support us in this work and help us make the GCCF the responsible, ethical, highly regarded organisation you deserve it to be. Steve Crow October 2017.

BRAVE THE SHAVE

www.bravetheshave.org.uk

taking place at the GCCF Supreme Cat Show, Saturday 28th October 2017

Roll up, roll up, for your one off opportunity to see yours truly get his head shaved in public, before you get too excited that is 'Head Shaved, not Throat Cut.'

This will take place at the 41st GCCF Supreme Cat Show at the NEC on Saturday 28th October in the Picket Fenced area in front of the main stage after the first grooming presentation.

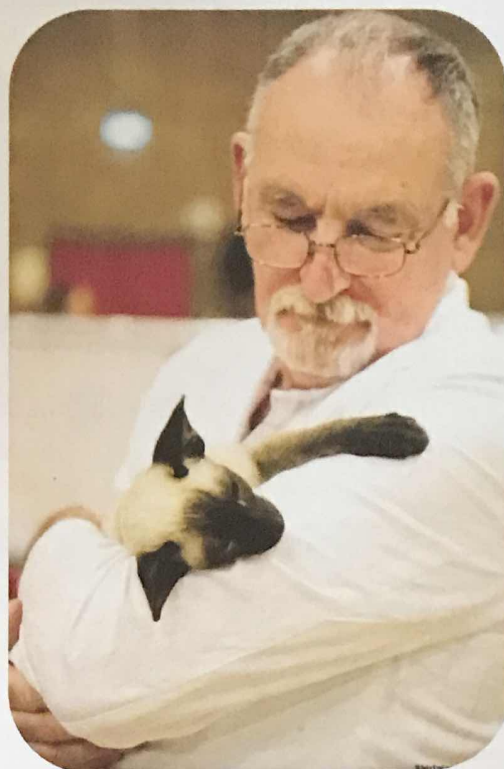

I first thought of this when my daughters hairdresser said she was going to her shaved at a party to for a family member who had recently been diagnosed with cancer, I thought it was an admirable thing for someone to do.

After giving it some serious thought, I hoped that by tying it into the Supreme there was a good chance of getting an audience and also as a result getting more money in sponsorship for the McMillan Trust, so the idea was launched. I was also very conscious that some well-known friends had been affected and it was also a method of honouring their memory.

I also wanted the opportunity to mention some personal family and friends who have also been affected. As such I wanted to name the following some of whom you will have heard of and others possibly be not, but equally important to me as an individual for various reasons.

- David Dwen a very young friend who died of this vile illness at only 20 years of age.
- Aileen Curren my sister who suffered a double mastectomy many years ago.
- Kay Burgess a past GCCF Chairman who some of you will have known and who managed the GCCF Supreme Cat Show.
- Julia May another GCCF stalwart past Vice Chair of GCCF and another former GCCF Supreme Cat Show Manager for many years.
- Anne Gregory former Vice President of GCCF, Executive/Board Member, GCCF All Breed Judge to give just to give just few of her achievements.
- Chris Bamford GCCF Judge.
- Kim Board-Allam GCCF Judge.
- Louvane Stevenson GCCF Judge.
- Celia Leighton, former Executive/Board Member, GCCF Judge, and GCCF Supreme Cat Show manager for the last 9 years.
- Pat Norman, Show Manager.

...and many, many more who have been adversely affected over the years.

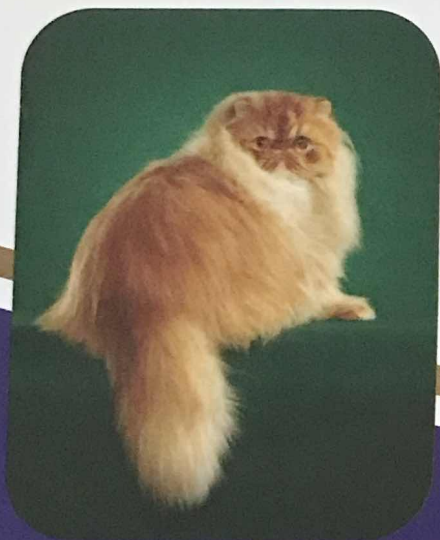

CAT BREEDS RECOGNISED BY THE GCCF

Persian Breed Group – Ring 1

Exotic Shorthair, Persian

Exotic Shorthair. The Exotic is a shorthair cat with Persian 'type'. They are a relatively new breed in the UK with many admirers and are happy, healthy and mischievous. With an easily maintained coat, they have quickly established themselves as both a striking show cat and a loving pet. Exotics are heavily boned, massive cats with lines softened by the thick, dense coat. The coat adds an impression of soft roundness to these muscular cats, making them look like plush toys you want to pick up and cuddle! In the UK some British SH breeders kept the "overtyped" offspring from British shorthair x Persian matings to try and develop the Exotic SH. The first import to the UK was CFA Gr Ch Purrfun My Main Man, a black smoke, descended from an original Burmese x Persian cross. The British SH was dropped as an allowable outcross for Exotics in 2000; now only Exotic and Persian are acceptable. Exotics were formally recognised by the GCCF in 1986, and gained championship status in 1995.

Persian. The ultimate glamour puss, which can be found in a huge array of colours and patterns. The Persian cat is one of our oldest breeds and evokes images of distant historical Persia and Turkey. Its long, luxuriant, flowing coat comes in a myriad of colours and its pansy-like face with big round copper, green or blue eyes is open and sweet. It has a short, sturdy body and short legs like little tree-trunks to support its massive build. Don't be fooled by their good looks! Persians are extremely intelligent and this helps them adjust easily to both the home and the show scene. They communicate with you with their expressive eyes and expect you to understand their wishes - they will also look at you incredulously when you misunderstand them; after all you are supposed to be intelligent! While the history of the Persian breed is mainly unrecorded, we do know it has been around for centuries, and the first cat shows in Britain included Persian cats.

The early Persian descriptions

sounded very like today's description: round head, short face, snub nose with stop, round full cheeks and a cobby body with a deep full chest.

Semi-Longhair Group – Ring 2

Birman, Maine Coon, Nebelung, Norwegian Forest Cat, RagaMuffin, Ragdoll, Siberian, Somali, Turkish Van, Turkish Vankedisi

Birman. The Birman - also called the "Sacred Cat of Burma" - is a gentle, loving cat. They are bewitching with their striking blue eyes and distinguished appearance. This pointed breed has a silky soft coat, which is light in colour. Their pale bodies and white paws offer a stark contrast with the point colour which develops on their face, ears, tail and legs. They are solidly built, medium to large cats with powerful muscles for play! The defining features of the Birman are their wonderful blue eyes and four pure white feet - the front gloves covering only the feet but the rear socks extending up behind the leg to form a long pointed gauntlet. The Birman cat is said to have acquired his stunning appearance through the intervention of a blue-eyed goddess who rewarded a temple cat's love for and devotion to his priest by turning his white coat golden and changing his yellow eyes to sapphire blue. His paws remained white as a symbol of his purity. Ever since, the temple cats have borne the goddess's marks of favour and it was said that priests who died were reborn into the cats' bodies. The Birman breed was first recognised in France in 1925 and then in the UK by the GCCF in 1966.

Maine Coon. The Maine Coon cat is a large, semi-longhaired cat, distinguished by its rectangular shape and flowing coat. The breed evolved as a working domesticated cat in a rural environment and this role is reflected in a rugged appearance with a characteristic 'weather-proof' coat and the demeanour of an alert, capable hunter. The Maine Coon cat is a gentle giant who cannot help but make his presence known in your home. Maine Coon cats are affectionate and tactile pets - always up for a cuddle; they are intelligent and can be taught to fetch, walk on leads and open doors. The Maine Coon originates from the state of Maine in the USA. In the 1850s seafarers brought longhaired cats back from foreign parts and these cats mated with the local shorthair cats. The offspring were big, strongly-built cats with semi-long coats and brush-like tails that resembled the tail of the racoon, hence the name Maine Coon. The cats developed thick, dense coats to withstand the extreme Maine winters. The Maine Coon is now known throughout America. It was imported into the UK in the 1980s and gained full GCCF recognition in 1993.

Nebelung. The Nebelung is known as a 'creature of the mist' - an elegant cat of foreign type with a dense, shimmering semi-longhair coat of soft, silky texture. To the uninformed, the Nebelung might look grey but in cat show terms he is a medium blue colour all the way to the roots. Ideally, the hairs are silver-tipped which makes the coat seem to glisten with a silvery sheen. The breed was founded in America with the cats Siegfried (1984) and Brunhilde (1985) owned by Mrs Cobb. The cats that looked like Russian Blues but with a semi-long coat. They were called Nebelung. The word 'Nebel' is the German word for fog (mist) and Russian 'Nebo' for sky or heaven. Another school of thought is that the breed name was derived from the epic German poem called the 'Nibelungenlied' (the English translation being Song of the Nibelungs). The Nebelung were first presented to the GCCF in the UK at a Russian Blue Show in October 2011.

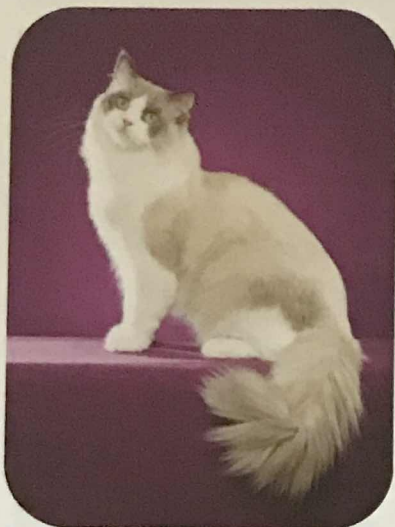

Norwegian Forest Cat. Referred to as the "Skogkatt", the Norwegian Forest Cat has been included in Viking legend and mythology. With a wild and rugged look, these stunning cats are not just pleasing to the eye but a delight to have around too. The Norwegian Forest Cat is a healthy, robust natural breed that developed over hundreds of years of natural selection in a harsh climate. It is a slow-maturing breed that may take up to five years to reach full maturity. The Norwegian Forest Cat (or "Wegie") is an interactive, playful, loving member of any household. Its strong, sturdy body and thick coat are testaments to their evolution over the centuries in Scandinavia. They travelled with the Vikings, keeping their ships and villages free of vermin. By the 20th century the Norwegian Forest Cat was becoming a rarity in its native land and was at risk of extinction. In the 1970s, the Norwegians put a special breeding breeding programme in place to protect the breed - and the breed received royal recognition when the late King Olaf designated them the official cat of Norway.

RagaMuffin. The breed name RagaMuffin came about because the original gene pool developed from the street cats of Riverside, California, and the M is capitalised because (according to a founding US breeder) they are big huggable, loveable Muffins! The overall impression should be one of a large, muscular, heavy cat; every possible colour and pattern is allowable. These semi-longhaired cats have a dense silky coat like that of a heavily furred rabbit and their fur grows longer around the neck and face (ruff), increases in length toward the stomach and gives a wispy frill on the hind legs. Although fairly new to the UK, their popularity is growing steadily. Related to Ragdolls, they were outcrossed to Persians, Himalayans and domestic longhaired cats to increase the size and bring about other changes in appearance to differentiate the RagaMuffin from the Ragdoll.

Ragdoll. The name "Ragdoll" is derived from the reported tendency of individuals from the original breeding cats to go limp and relaxed when picked up. The Ragdoll is a large affectionate, semi-longhaired cat with beautiful blue eyes. It has an easy, laid-back temperament and in general loves interaction with people and other animals. Anne Baker, a breeder in Riverside, California developed the Ragdoll breed in the early 1960s. In 1981 the first Ragdoll cats were imported into the UK by Pat Brownsell (Patriarca) and Lulu Rowley (Petit-Lu) from the Blossom-Time cattery in the USA – the Ragdoll had arrived in the UK.

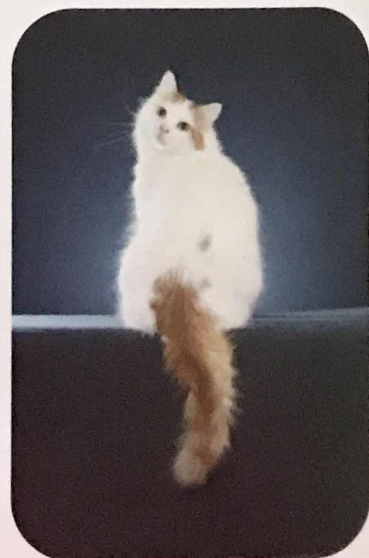

Siberian. The majestic Siberian is a strong, powerfully built cat with strong hindquarters helping them jump exceptionally high. They are a slow-maturing breed, reaching full magnificence at about five years of age. Siberians are large cats with a substantial rounded body reminiscent of a barrel and heavily boned legs to support the body structure. Their paws would do a heavyweight boxer proud! However, for all their powerful strength, these are gentle cats that enjoy playing and clowning around with their families. Siberian cats have a sweet chirruping voice and an impressive purr. Siberian cats have existed for a long time; the earliest known reference is from 1000 AD. It was not until 2002 that the first Siberians put their paws on British soil. Since then, the number of breeders in the UK has increased very quickly as word spreads about this wonderful breed.

Somali. The cat with the smiling face, the Somali is of medium build and foreign type. It is a beautiful cat, with a ticked coat that comes in two lengths, semi-longhaired and short haired. The combination of ticked fur in a range of colours, striking facial markings, large ears and bright, expressive eyes gives the Somali a wild look which immediately captivates. The Somali is a combination of beauty and personality; a very intelligent cat, its zest for life and love of play blossom with human companionship. The semi-longhaired Somali is the longhaired version of the older style Abyssinian. Indeed, there is a cat described as "mistress of the embalming house" in the papyrus of Nespaheeran, c900 BC that closely resembles a Somali. Abyssinians have always been used as outcrosses for Somalis to maintain a healthy gene pool, with the resulting short-haired kittens very attractive. In 2011, preliminary recognition was granted by GCCF to the Short-Haired Somali and, in June 2014 they gained championship status and are shown in the Semi-Longhaired Section.

Turkish Van & Turkish Vankedis. Commonly known as the "swimming cat", the Turkish Van is a naturally occurring semi-longhaired breed from the rugged region of the Middle East centred on Lake Van in Turkey, where the climate varies to extremes. The Turkish Van is known for its distinctive pattern - a white cat with a strikingly coloured head and tail. The 'top-and-tail' markings, even when seen on other breeds of cat, are frequently referred to as "van patterning". The pure white Turkish Vankedis has exactly the same characteristics and temperament as its van-patterned cousins. The cats first appeared on these shores in the 1950s when a pair of Turkish Vans were brought back to Britain by a holidaying couple.

British Breed Group – Ring 3

British Shorthair, Manx, Selkirk Rex

British Shorthair. A quarter of all kittens registered with the GCCF each year are British Shorthairs, making the British the most popular pedigree cat in the UK. The British is a patient, relaxed soulmate, forming strong bonds with human companions of all ages and being tolerant of other pets such as dogs and rabbits. Whilst not overly talkative, your British will take a great interest in the family routines and will make sure that he is always on hand to ensure things are done properly and on time! British kittens have an adorable teddy-bear quality, which combines with a comical and affectionate personality. Slow to mature, the calm and easy-going British shorthair cat deserves his place as number one in the hearts of the British family.

Manx. The Manx cat, in earlier times often spelled Manks, is a breed of domestic cat originating on the Isle of Man, with a naturally occurring mutation that shortens or entirely eliminates the tail. Manx are prized as skilled hunters, and thus have often been sought by farmers with rodent problems. A strong preference for them as ship's cats is thought to be responsible for the world-wide spread of what originated as a very limited, insular island-based breed. Manx cats walk and run with a normal gait, but exhibit a well-documented Manx 'strut', due to the longer more powerful back legs. They are extremely fast and very impressive jumpers.

Selkirk Rex. The Selkirk Rex is an easy-going, relaxed cat that resembles a soft, stuffed toy that you just want to pick up and hug. The largest of the rex-coated (curly) breeds, Selkirk Rex have a tousled disarray to their dense coats that makes them look as though they are having a bad hair day! Sometimes called the cat in sheep's clothing, these gentle cats bring a smile to your face. They are plush-coated, medium-sized cats with solid boning and bodies that fill your arms when you pick them up for a quick hug and cuddle. The first Selkirk Rex cats arrived in Britain in February 2002; they were three siblings bred in Austria. Their popularity was immediate and they soon became a regular sight at cat shows.

Foreign Breed Group - Ring 4

Abyssinian, Asian, Australian Mist, Aztec, Bengal, Chartreux, Cornish Rex, Devon Rex, Egyptian Mau, Korat, LaPerm, Ocicat, Russian, Singapura, Snowshoe, Sokoke, Sphynx, Suffolk, Thai, Tonkinese, Toyger

Abyssinian. The Abyssinian is one of the top five most popular cat breeds world-wide. It is a medium to large shorthaired cat with a lithe and muscular feel. One of its defining features is a distinctly ticked coat, showing at least four bands of colour. The Abyssinian is a delight to look at with its large ears, sometimes with tufts, resembling a lynx, its large rounded almond shaped eyes and beautiful face markings, all of which combine to give a wild but gentle expression. Nothing about the Abyssinian is 'extreme' other than its devotion to its owners! Abyssinian Breeders are dedicated to producing as healthy and natural looking cats as possible.

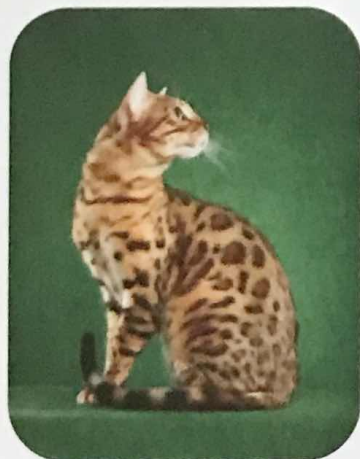

Asian. The Asian Group of cats consists of five varieties: Self, which includes the 17 recognised self and tortie colours; smoke; shaded, called Burmilla; Tabby, which includes ticked, mackerel, spotted and classic tabby patterns; and the semi-longhaired version which is called the Tiffanie. The Asian breed originated in the UK in 1981 from a mismatching between a lilac Burmese queen and a Chinchilla Persian boy. Early breeders decided that they should look like Burmese, but with a range of new colours, patterns and with two hair-lengths: shorthair and semi-longhair. The breed was named "Asian" and by 2003 all five varieties had reached GCCF championship status.

Australian Mist. Arriving from Australia in 2007, the Australian Mist is one of our newer breeds. Originally known as the Spotted Mist, this breed originated in Australia in 1977, using a combination of Burmese (50%) and Abyssinian (25%), outcrossed to domestic shorthaired cats (25%). Australian Mist cats are medium-sized short-haired cats, with round heads and large eyes. The coat is very short, without an undercoat. The Mist is an agouti cat, which can be spotted or marbled (classic) pattern and can be found in 6 colours - brown, blue, chocolate, lilac, cinnamon and fawn. The temperament of the Australian Mist is delightful. They are great with children and are wonderful companions to both young and old. They are perfect lap cats and enjoy the company of other animals.

The Aztec. The Aztec is an impressive muscular and athletic classic patterned cat with the look of the wild, however there are no wild genes used in Aztec bloodlines. The Aztec is the classic patterned sister breed developed from the Ocicat breed, so they share the same history. Their gait mimics the bigger wild cats, with a low slung stance and high rising shoulder blades when walking, which gives a fluid grace to their movement. The exotic look of the classic tabby patterned Aztec belies its affectionate personality and wonderful temperament. These beautiful cats make loving, engaging and playful companions. They are highly intelligent, social and people-focused cats. Many owners remark on their dog like tendencies, as they enjoy interacting with their human family, respond very well to the voice and can easily be trained. Many will readily play fetch and can be taught house rules easily, responding well to positive verbal reward. Although seen as an exotic breed, the Aztec requires no special care, with their broad genetic background giving them a robust vigour and vitality. The Aztec has an average life span, like most cats, of 15 to 18 years.

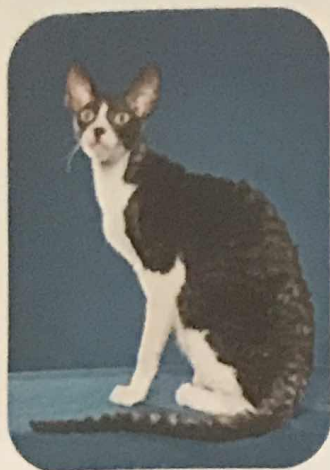

Bengal. The Bengal is a medium to large cat of foreign type with a strong, muscular, athletic body. Bengals are now one of the most popular short-haired breeds although they only appeared in the UK around 20 years ago. The Bengal is renowned for the clarity, contrast and pelt-like texture of its beautiful spotted or marbled coat as well as its confident, playful and outgoing personality. The original Bengal breeders in the USA were aiming to create the look of a small spotted wild cat with the friendly and affectionate nature of a domestic pet.

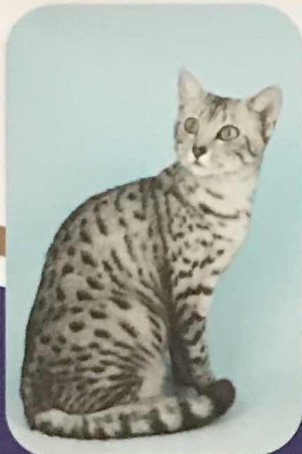

Chartreux. A robust natural French breed with a long history, it is one of the few breeds that comes only in blue. Chartreux are calmly attentive to the world, and tend to sit back and observe before making a decision. It is a tolerant and gentle breed with a passionate devotion that defies their robust frame. Legend has it that the Chartreux's ancestors were feral mountain cats from what is now Syria, brought to France by returning crusaders in the 13th century. The country adopted the breed and stories of the "Blue cats of France" began during the 16th century, describing it as a stocky cat with a woolly ash-grey coat and copper eyes valued for its ratting ability. After WWI, French cat breeders became interested in preserving this ancient cat and started rebuilding the breed from rare existing colonies. Early breeders put together a breed standard based on 18th century naturalists' descriptions and the breed today has changed very little since then.

Cornish Rex. Cornish Rex make excellent pets. Aristocratic in appearance, they are extremely intelligent, affectionate and gentle whilst still getting up to mischief and never seeming to grow old. Even cats in their mid-teens will still be playful. Some charming characteristics of the breed are their dog-like habits of following their owners around and retrieving their favourite toys. A distinctive feature of the breed is their long toes, which enable them to use their paws like little hands. The breed is elegant, agile, very active and requires companionship.

Devon Rex. Often described as resembling the Gremlins from the Star Wars films, the Devon Rex is a small-to medium-sized cat with a pixie-like appearance. The defining features of these endearing little cats are their big eyes, high cheekbones and velvety soft coat that ripples and waves under your touch. These little minxes are friendly, intelligent, curious companions and will make a playful addition to your household.

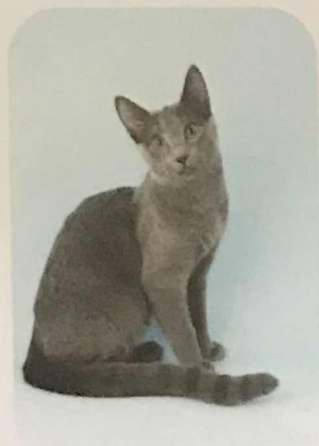

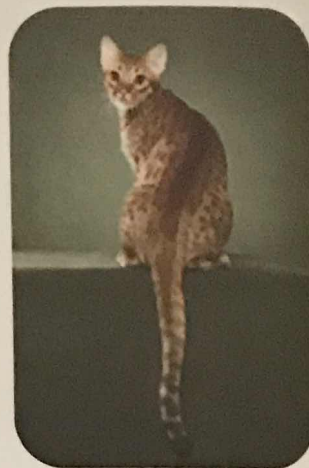

Egyptian Mau. The Egyptian Mau is an elegant spotted cat that bears a striking resemblance to the cats depicted in the art of the ancient Egyptians. The Mau is a natural breed derived from the modern street cats of Egypt. Part of its attraction is the romantic history of the breed and the possibility that Maus trace their ancestry directly back to the cats first domesticated by the ancient Egyptians. In ancient Egypt around 4000 years BC, small cats of the genus Felis first began their close, and long-lasting association with man. The Egyptian Mau breed was developed as we know it today after WW2. However, the breed did not reach the UK, perhaps because of the restrictions imposed by quarantine. The first Egyptian Maus were imported to the UK by Melissa Bateson in 1998. The breed was recognized fully by GCCF in 2006.

Korat. It's an easy task to define the Korat, as it is the blue cat of Thailand. Indeed, its very name in its native country means exactly that: 'si-sawat' greyish-blue cat. All Korats in the west today can have their ancestry traced back to imports from Thailand. The earliest existing records of the cats of Thailand can be seen in the Bangkok National Library, and are known as the cat-book poems. The Korat entry relates that, 'The base of each hair, is the colour of a cloud' and Korat eyes are 'Like dew when dropped on the leaf of a lotus'. Do not choose this breed for its looks alone. The Korat is not for you if you are desirous of the merely decorative. They wish to be involved in the lives of their people and are truly companions. Their natural intelligence, liveliness and playfulness is their charm and someone new to the breed must know of this, and be ready to give time and love, which will then be repaid a hundredfold.

LaPerm. These charming, friendly cats have an elegant athletic build, and are hardy, healthy and suitable for a range of owners and households. Their most striking feature is their soft coat of shaggy waves, curls and ringlets, which is easy to care for, comes in a wide range of colours and feels delightful to touch. The name LaPerm was chosen to reflect the cats perm-like coats and echoes the local Native American trade language, Chinook Wawa, which absorbed French words, including their definite articles, into its lexicon. The first LaPerms in the UK arrived in 2002 and full championship recognition was granted by the GCCF in 2012.

Ocicat. An impressive muscular cat with the look of the wild, the Ocicat is a man-made domestic cat that adds an exotic flavour to your home. The exotic look of the Ocicat belies its affectionate personality and temperament - and there are no wild genes whatsoever used in Ocicat bloodlines. The Ocicat has a well-muscled, long body with a proportionately long tail. A variety of colours to choose from - tawny, chocolate, cinnamon, blue, lilac and fawn and then also the same colours with the addition of silver. The rich shades resemble the tones of jungle cats and the shimmering silvers add a touch of glamour. Ocicats are devoted to people, easily trained and respond well to the voice, while retaining their feline independence. They are adaptable cats who easily learn the household rules. However, their social nature means they are unhappy if left alone for long periods.

Russian. The aristocratic Russian Blue is a gem of the feline world. Their short, dense, silver-tipped blue fur glistens and shimmers in the light as they move, providing an elegant setting for their glowing emerald green eyes. They are a medium-sized cat, combining elegance with intelligence. Perhaps lesser known are the Russian Black and Russian White. As their names suggest, they are black or white rather than silvery blue in colour. The Russian Black's coat colour is a dense glossy black to the skin, with black nose leather and paw pads. The coat of the Russian White masks the genetic colour which here in the UK is blue or black and can be checked by a DNA test. The coat must be pure sparkling white with no hint of discolouration, although a kitten or young adult may temporarily carry a small dark patch or patches of blue or black on the head.

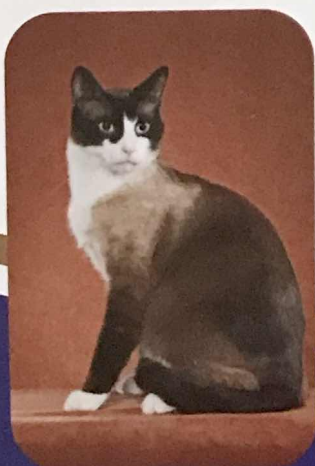

Singapura. The Singapura is a medium sized cat of foreign type, with noticeably large eyes and ears, which comes in one colour only - but what an ethereal colour! Large celadon eyes twinkling with mischief in an angelic face help the Singapura reach out and capture the imagination while stealing the heart. These delightful, cats, dressed in the colours of old sepia photographs, are into everything, looking up at you with big innocent eyes when you find them engaged in some mischief. The Singapura is an energy-packed companion that wants to help you with everything you do. The breed originates from Singapore, where its ticked coat pattern and dark brown colour are a common local combination recognised as the original gene pool for ticked tabbies. The first Singapura was imported into Britain in 1989 and they are rapidly increasing in popularity as show cats and pets.

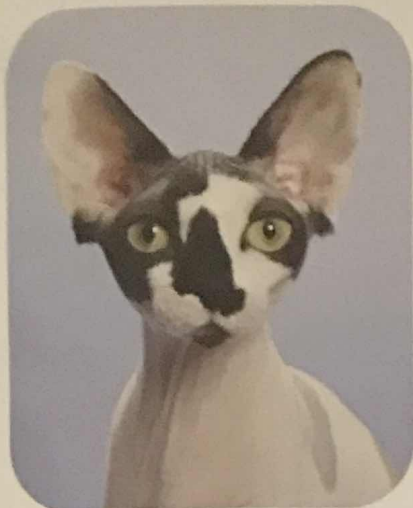

Snowshoe. The Snowshoe is a medium sized cat, well-balanced overall. It is firm and muscular, deceptively powerful and should have an athletic build, with the appearance of a runner rather than a weightlifter. The combination of blue eyes, pointed pattern and white trim are unique in the Foreign Shorthair Section. The origin of the Snowshoe can be traced back to the early 1960s when Dorothy Hinds Daugherty of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania found three kittens in a litter of Siamese, each with four white feet. Dorothy liked the combination of pointed colours and white feet and began the process to establish a breed. In developing the breed, she bred the kittens to a domestic cat with "tuxedo" markings and eventually developed the popular white 'V' facial markings.

Sokoke. The rarest breed of domestic cat in the world, the Sokoke is a lean, medium sized, ticked modified classic tabby cat. It is found as a naturally occurring native breed in the greater Arabuko-Sokoke Forest Preserve area in the coastal zone of Kenya, Africa. The cats are almost extinct now in the wild. A peace-loving, keenly aware and intelligent shorthaired breed, the Sokoke is playful and family oriented, forming close bonds with both feline and human family members. The Sokoke is unique in that it has a see-through ticked tabby pattern, with ticking in both the ground colour and pattern itself, even including the tail tip. This camouflage pattern can also include outlining over the shoulders and below the spine. They have a tip-toe gait that becomes more pronounced when they are excited.

Sphynx. The intriguing Sphynx cat never fails to draw a reaction from people and is certainly something of a conversation piece - some people love the bald, wrinkled look, some are fascinated by the cat, while others are less than enthusiastic! The most distinctive feature of the cat is its lack of fur. The Sphynx is of medium size, boning and body conformation, its head a modified wedge, with prominent cheekbones and whisker pads. The body is warm and soft to the touch, with a chamois leather-like texture to the skin. The Sphynx is sweet-tempered, lively, intelligent and amenable to handling.

2014 by the GCCF, and given Preliminary recognition in 2016. It has been developed over the past ten years by two dedicated traditional Havana breeders who both live in Suffolk. It is available in chocolate, and its recessive colour lilac. It is a charming, beautiful cat, with a sleek shiny coat and vivid green eyes. Suffolks were made for our modern lifestyle and are equally at home in a London penthouse or a tiny cottage in the country. The Suffolk Chocolate has a dog like character, and is devoted to its owner and family. It is extremely talkative, brave, and very happy to accompany its owner on their travels, even wearing a harness. They make an ideal house cat, as they prefer the company of their owner, rather than being left to wander.

Thai. The Thai cats are the Thai Lilac and the Thai Blue Point - very similar to their self-coloured cousin, the Korat. Thais are simply Korats wearing a different coat. Britain is currently the only country which acknowledges these variants. From the earliest days of recorded Korat breeding in the west (1959), kittens have been born occasionally with a Siamese type pattern, i.e. pale body with some shading but the blue colour restricted to the points (face, ears, legs, paws and tail). When in 1989 two Korats mated together in the UK gave birth to a 'pink' kitten, it was a bit of a surprise, to say the least. In the late 1980s and early 1990s other UK-based Korats gave birth to the odd 'white' and 'pink' kitten. It became clear that these new 'colours' were derived from recessive genes which had lain dormant in the Korats for many generations.

Toyger. The Toyger is a medium to large cat of foreign type with a long low slung muscular body and athletic appearance. It is characterised by its striking plush striped glittered coat and superbly amiable temperament. The Toyger is a new breed in the UK. Toygers resemble a small version of the Tiger i.e. a large, long body to display the bold vertical patterns; which when stretched shows the original mackerel tabby pattern of the cats, with dense and luxuriously soft fur. Toygers are exceptionally sociable, confident and outgoing and love human company, they get on well with children, other cats and cat friendly dogs and make ideal family pets. They are highly intelligent and like company so may not be happy as single cats if left alone for long periods.

Tonkinese. The Tonkinese is the result of crossing a Siamese with a Burmese and it displays characteristics from both breeds. They are very people-orientated and make ideal family pets. Tonks, as they are affectionately known, are very inquisitive and intelligent. Originally they were developed in America in the 1950s and were called 'Golden Siamese' but the breed did not take off and became ignored. It was not until the 1960s when they reappeared called Tonkinese that the popularity grew and they became popular pets and show cats.

Burmese Breed Group – Ring 5

Burmese

Burmese. Playful, energetic, acrobatic and highly intelligent, the Burmese cat is the extrovert of the cat world. Despite their sweet expression, they are very mischievous but they love - or should that be adore - people and human company. The most charming of cats, with their big gold eyes and shiny close-lying coats, Burmese will win your heart. Once you have known a Burmese, you will have a lifelong passion for the breed. Cuddly, confident and sociable sums up the Burmese cat perfectly. If you are looking for an outgoing, lively cat who wants to be part of your family then the Burmese is for you. Burmese cats love the company of people; they are very good with children, other cats and dogs and are said to stay close to home. If you enjoy the quiet life, fun-loving and mischievous Burmese probably aren't for you!

Oriental Breed Group – Ring 6

Oriental

The Oriental. Orientals are long, slender, stylised cats. They are lively, talkative and intelligent and are very attached to their people. What makes the Oriental Shorthair distinct from the rest of the Siamese group is their wide array of colours. Oriental Shorthairs are a very lively, elegant and colourful cat, in every sense. These are not cats for people who want to live a quiet life but they are wonderful for those who want an interactive and amusing pet and a truly devoted companion. The Oriental Longhair (formerly known as the Angora, and also known as the Javanese in some countries) is the longhaired version of the Oriental Shorthair just as the Balinese is the longhaired version of the Siamese.

Siamese and Balinese Breed Group – Ring 7

Balinese, Siamese

The Balinese. The graceful Balinese can be described as a Siamese cat in a long coat. The fine-boned, Balinese is a stylish cat with a slender body. Its coat is fine and silky lying close to the body, and the lack of an undercoat reduces the likelihood of matting. The Balinese is a vocal cat that enjoys 'chatting' with you. If you are looking for an interactive, vocal cat then the graceful Balinese may be for you. Their pointed pattern means colour is restricted to the face (mask), ears, legs and tail, with a contrasting creamy white body. They have brilliant blue eyes. Extremely loving, inquisitive and playful, they demand lots of attention and game-playing. Balinese get on well with children and other pets and fit easily into the family. Remember though they are chatty and have high energy levels! Considered to be one of the most intelligent cat breeds.

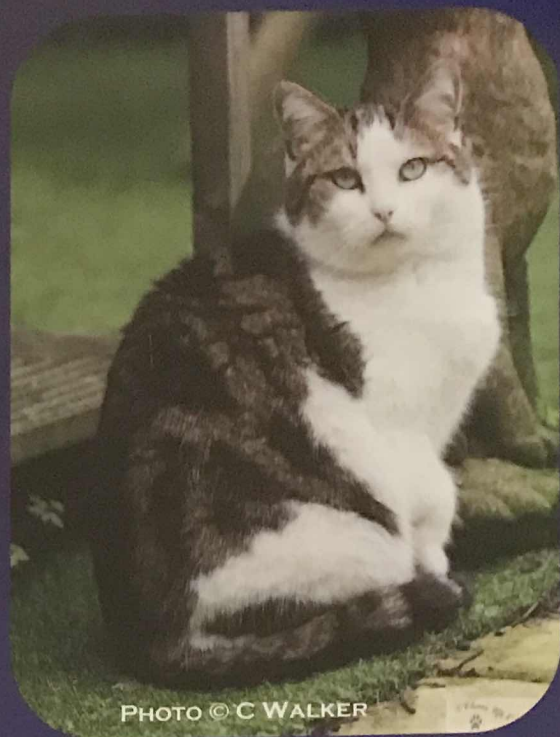

Siamese. The Siamese is a medium sized cat with a long, lithe body that is graceful and elegant but still has a muscular feel. Its legs are slender and paws small and oval; the tail is long and tapering. The most recognised features of the Siamese cat are the coloured points seen on the mask, limbs and tail, and their mesmerising blue eyes. Together with large ears, the coloured points and blue eyes create the unique look of the breed. The Siamese originated in what is now Thailand and has been in existence for hundreds of years. Legend says that Siamese cats were sacred cats and guarded Buddhist temples. They were imported into Britain in the 1800s. The original Siamese colour was the classic seal brown points with a warm cream coloured body, but breeders developed more colours by introducing other breeds of cat into the breeding schedule. The original Siamese had eye squints and tail kinks which are now considered serious faults but at one time these 'faults' were so common there are fables written in folklore to tell of their origin.

Household Pet Group – Ring 8

Non-Pedigree cats, Half Pedigree (Pedigree Look-a-likes), Pedigree Pets

Non pedigree. Non-Pedigree cats are your basic domestic cat with absolutely no pedigree parentage. They come in all different shapes, sizes and coat lengths and patterns, from solid colours like a black and white, also known as self, meaning single or solid colour - through to some different varieties of tabby, striped (mackerel), spotted, or blotched/classic which is like a butterfly with whirls and lines in the coat pattern. They can be tortoiseshell, which can be seen in bold patches of colour all over the cat, or sometimes subtly mingled, where the colours seem to fade into each other, or even a tortoiseshell tabby. White can be seen mixed with all of the above.

These are the ONLY cats allowed to be shown in the Non-Pedigree section of the Household Pet group.

Half – Pedigrees (Pedigree Look-a-like).

These are half-pedigrees, mating of an accidental whoops litter, or the crossing of two full pedigrees which is not allowed under either of the parents breed standards. Something like a Persian mating with a Korat, or a Singapura escaping to mate with the local tom. Both these types of scenario produce cats that will fall in to the half pedigree, or pedigree look-a-like category and are shown in the Pedigree Pet section. Because of pedigree blood, their colours and patterns can be somewhat more varied than a domestic shorthair, which is why there is an AOC (Any Other Colour) class allowing for tipped, ticked, shaded, smoke and pointed patterns.

Pedigree Pet. These are Pedigree cats which should not be shown in the pedigree section of a show. They may or may not have papers (their pedigree certificate and certificate of registration) as they are rescue cats, or they may show one or two 'faults' that make it impossible to show under their breed's Standard of Points; this can be anything from the wrong eye colour, colour in the wrong place, a broken or unbroken 'necklace' in the pattern round its neck, to a tail fault (a kink or blip in the tail).

All the cats in the Household Pet Group may also be shown if they have fully healed physical injuries such as a nick from an ear, or the loss of a tail or limb as it is the cat's character, health and wellbeing that is being judged as a Standard, rather than their physical attributes.

CATALOGUE

Ever since the first cat show was held in 1871, fanciers have had standards of excellence to aim for. At first there was minimal mention of the shape of the cats, the breeds differing mainly in coat length and colour, but the standards evolved, the breeds changed gradually and cats today are bred in a dozen distinct shapes. Despite the differences in shape (or "type") essential to the various breeds, no standard of points calls for extreme deviation from the basic mongrel cat shape and size, and deformities are severely penalised in all breeds, so that today's cats still move, feed and breed naturally.

PERSIAN SECTION

The breeds in this section are all Persian in type, varying only in their coat colour, markings and eye colour or, in the case of the Exotics, their coat length. They are big, solid cats with a cobby body, sturdy legs, a short tail and a broad round head with a short nose, small ears set wide apart and large round eyes; the effect is one of roundness and substance, enhanced by the beautiful coat which should be long, dense and silky in Persians, dense and plushy in Exotics.

Exotic - GEMS EXO

The Exotic is a cat with Persian type, including the typical Persian look with its snub nose, but with a short soft coat, although the coat is slightly longer than that of the other shorthairs. It may be bred in any of the colours seen in Persian longhairs, with the eye colour appropriate to that longhair breed and in a variety of spotted colours. The classes are split into Self and Non-Self.

Pregnancy in a cat

Pregnancy usually lasts for an average 65 days (range 61-67 days) following the first mating. It's a time of rapid change and growth; understanding some of the main changes can be helpful in appreciating the changing needs of the queen during these 9 weeks.

Litter sizes will vary depending on the breed of cat. For example an average-sized Burmese litter may be expected to be around 5 kittens although 8 or 9 kittens are not uncommon. Did you know that the size of a litter can influence the length of gestation? Larger litters are often associated with a shorter gestation time (see Burmese & Asians) whereas smaller litters or single kittens may be associated with a longer gestation as with the Somali. This may be partly due to weaker uterine stimulation, (although the Egyptian Mau has a longer gestation period of around 65-70 days and their average litter size is 4 to 5 kittens). Other factors known to influence litter size are the reproductive age and stage of development, hereditary factors, the presence of disease, bacterial infection, trauma and the nutritional status of a cat. Stress can also play its part.

Below, you can see how a sample of 14 breed groups in the UK. (1)

Fertility and Conception - some facts:

- Entire Burmese females can come into call from around 4-5 months of age!
- Cats are polyoestrus - they are highly fertile as a species having multiple 'heats' in a year.
- Cats are induced ovulators. It may take several matings, (ideally close together) to stimulate the release of hormones responsible for triggering ovulation.
- After ovulation, the queen generally goes off heat within 2 days.
- The first observed mating may not necessarily be the first successful mating.
- Some females have very long heat cycles (up to around 21 days) when early mating may not produce ovulation even though they may be otherwise receptive to the tom.

Around 10% of queens between weeks 3-6 of pregnancy can experience oestrus activity although it is uncommon for these cycles to be fertile.

- Endocrine tissues play an important role in feline reproduction. The pituitary gland produces gonadotropic hormones which trigger the release of follicle stimulating hormone (FSH) and luteinizing hormone (LH) which act to control ovarian function.
- A cat's uterus has 2 horns and a uterine body (bicornuate).
- The 'zonary' placenta forms a girdle-like band around the foetus.

Recognising Pregnancy

One of the first physical indications that a queen may be pregnant is at around 21 days after the first mating when the queen's nipples become visibly pinker, enlarged and the hair around them recedes. In a maiden queen this sign is usually more obvious. At this time also it is possible to palpate the grape-sized foetal structures in the abdomen (with experience - these can be detected up to around 35 days after which their increased size makes them less obvious individually).

The queen's behaviour and 'voice' may also change with the onset of pregnancy but this is not always the case. I have a roly-poly, high-pitched squeaker who is 7 weeks pregnant as I write!

Weight Changes

Weight steadily increases soon after mating but the greatest rate of change is seen during the 2nd trimester. A queen can be expected to gain around 40% of her pre-pregnant weight during these 9 weeks.

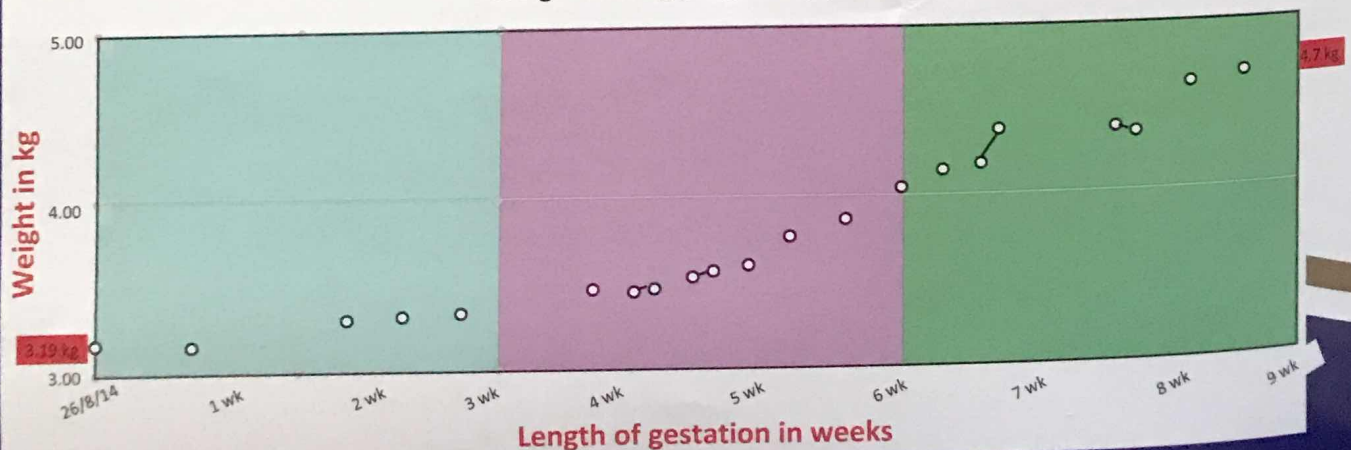

Below is a chart I made in October last year as an illustration. This shows an increase of approx. 46% on pre-pregnancy weight (resulting in 8 kittens), with the greatest increase during weeks 4-7 inclusive. Interestingly, the same girl (pictured below) is pregnant again and showing an almost identical profile at each point.

Important events during pregnancy

Looking at the pregnancy in trimesters, I've outlined some of the main changes and the key times when these changes occur or can be detected; these are illustrated with ultrasound and X-ray images where available.

|--------------------|--|
| Pro-oestrus | Pro-oestrus period lasts between 12 hours and 3 days. Behavioural changes include rolling, rubbing against objects, increased affection and vocalisation although the queen is not yet fully receptive to the tom cat. |
|--------------------|--|

Implantation

|--|-------------------------------|--|
|  1st trimester | Days 1-7 | Oestrus period - Estradiol hormone levels increase causing behavioural oestrus as follicular activity peaks. Queen comes into full mating behaviour and becomes receptive to tomcat. Mating triggers release of Gonadotropin releasing hormone (GrRH), which binds to receptors in the pituitary and controls release of LH and FSH. Ovulation occurs 24-36hrs after mating - fertilised ova remain in oviduct for 4 days. Oocytes (immature eggs) are released at 5 days. Corpus luteum (CL) produces progesterone supporting foetal implantation and growth. |
| | 8-14 | Embryos position in uterine horns around 11 days. Implantation occurs between days 11-14. Embryonic kittens can be detected by ultrasound as early as 14-15 days (with skill!) as small swelling of 5-9mm diameter in the uterine horns. Queen may feel nauseous and lack appetite during early period in pregnancy. |
| | 15-21 | At around 16 days foetal heartbeat can be detected by ultrasound (average 230bpm; range 193 - 263bpm). Embryonic fetuses can be detected by palpation at 21 days (range 17-25 days). They are small grape-sized structures of about 30mm diameter. At 3 weeks they have optic cups, limb buds and a small opening (mouth) in head. Relaxin hormone is secreted by placenta 20-3- days after mating. Mammary glands 'pink up' at 21 days. Superfetation (oestrus activity) may be seen around day 21-24. |

After fertilisation, the first division takes place 60 to 68 hours after coitus. These first cells are called blastomeres. After that first division, there will be a division every 10 to 14 hours as the foetus continues to grow.

| Days 22-28 | Queen gains significant weight during weeks 4-6. Abdominal distension is visible to flank by 28 days. Vocal change in the queen is often noticeable at around 4 weeks. Prolactin (produced by anterior pituitary) increases from day 25. +/-4 weeks - forearms, rear digits and the start of a tail form. Dark pigment indicates position of eyes and holes appear where ears will develop. The heart and intestinal structures are present but the abdomen has not yet fused along the midline. Heartbeats can be detected by stethoscope at 25-28 days. Foetal size is around 40-50mm diameter at 4 weeks. |
| 29-35 | Opaque cartilage forms the frontal plates of the skull. Spinal cord, muzzle, nose, ear flaps start to develop from 4 weeks. Foetal organs can be detected by ultrasound from 30 days onwards and movement at around 32 days. Calorific requirement of the queen increase by 1/3 to around 370 kJ per kg bodyweight. |
| 36-42 | By 5 weeks the ribs start to calcify. Digits separate and tiny paw pads and claws are formed. Skin thickens slightly and whiskers start to merge. Gender can be detected by ultrasound from 38-43 days. Progesterone levels in the queen are at their peak between 30-50 days. Again, signs of oestrus behaviour may be seen in week 6! |

Ultrasound Scans

Ultrasound images to show early development at 23 days.

Growth

|---------------------|---|
| 57-65 | The ears become bigger and the inner ear is formed, but is still of cartilage. The tail grows longer. The alveoli are developed and the pituitary gland becomes lobed. In the intestines the intestinal villi are growing. The eyelids are complete and present although closed. Pigmentation is visible. The embryo is now between 65 to 125 mm. |
| 50-56 | Protruding tongue and skin folds in the arm & groin indicate rapid growth. Pigmented body hair sprouts from follicles. Kittens are almost completely formed by 8 weeks. Significant foetal activity can be seen and felt as undulating movements in the queen's abdomen. Mammary development increases during last 2 weeks. |
| 57-65 | Prolactin levels reach pregnancy peak - partly stimulated by increased oestrogen (levels increase dramatically again after parturition). During the last week of pregnancy, the queen develops nesting behaviour, often becoming restless and vocal and looking for places to hide. In the queen, glandular tissue becomes enlarged as milk comes in. Growing foetal size triggers birthing event at around 65 days. |

Medication and Vaccinations

Most drugs are not licensed for use in pregnancy (they have not been tested to understand their effects) but may variously cause miscarriage, abortion or birth defects. Developing foetuses have little or no ability to metabolise or excrete drugs and the concentration to which they are exposed may be higher than that of the queen if she is given medication herself. The queen's own tolerance to drugs may also be affected during pregnancy. It is therefore generally recommended to avoid giving medication during pregnancy.

All breeding cats should be vaccinated against feline infectious enteritis (FIE) and the respiratory viruses (FCV, FHV) and these vaccinations should be current (2). Transferred immunity may be boosted by (early) vaccination prior to mating. Protection is passed to the kittens during the first 18hrs following the birth through MDA's in colostrum. Vaccination during pregnancy is not recommended.

The stages leading up to a successful mating and the anticipation during a pregnancy can seem like a long time but the birth of a healthy litter is the ultimate reward for any breeder. Now the fun really starts!

SEMI-LONGHAIR SECTION

This section contains those longhaired breeds which are not of Persian type. The coat is usually less dense than that of the Persian and the head and body are rather longer than those of the Persian longhairs.

Birman

This is one of the earliest semi-longhair breeds to be recognised. Although, like the Persian, it should be massive and well-rounded, the body, legs and tail are a little longer than in the Persian and the ears slightly larger, while the nose is straight and of medium length. The eyes are almost round and must be a deep blue. The coat is long and silky. The unique characteristic of this breed is its white feet, the front feet having white "gloves" to cover the toes and the hind feet white "gauntlets" covering the paws and tapering up the back of the leg to the hock.

Seal & Blue Birmans

These two colours breeds are judged together in the Grand class.

Maine Coon - GEMS MCO

This semi-longhaired breed of medium foreign type originated in the USA, and is bred in a wide variety of colours, often with white markings. Maine Coons have a rugged outdoor appearance with a natural long coat which lacks the fluffiness of the Persian, but are slow to mature to their final large size. This breed is more rectangular than the Norwegian Forest Cat and the head shape is less angular.

Norwegian Forest Cat - GEMS NFO*This large but elegant semi-longhaired breed originated as an outdoor working cat on Norwegian farms and its appearance should reflect this heritage. It is slow to mature, sometimes taking up to four years to develop fully, and has a distinctive double coat, but coat colour and pattern are irrelevant. The cats here are descended from imported stock, with no outcrosses to other breeds.Class 311M NORWEGIAN FOREST CAT*IMPERIAL GRAND CHAMPION (or cat with 1 UK GR) Male

Turkish Van - GEMS TUV

This breed is even less Persian in type, with a long sturdy body, medium length legs and tail and a wedge-shaped head with large upright ears and a long nose. Its round eyes are a light amber colour, blue or one of each. The long silky coat is pure chalk white with patches of colour on the face and a coloured tail. The colour may be auburn, cream, black, blue, tortie, blue tortie, brown or blue tabby, tortie tabby or blue tortie tabby. Originating from the same part of Turkey as the Turkish Van, the Vankedis is identical to this breed, with the same amber, blue or odd eyes, but with no coloured markings: its coat is pure white.

KITTEN DEVELOPMENT:

from birth to 13 weeks of age

The birth of a litter of kittens can be an exciting time. As breeders we all have our share of sleeplessness, anticipation, concern and relief as the expected time of arrival and delivery dawns. The gestation period for Burmese is on average 65 days (this varies slightly among other breeds). I feel privileged to enjoy such a special time with my cats and I thought it may be of interest (to those who don't already know) to share with you some of the key developmental stages from the time from birth to 13 weeks - the stage when most people get to take home their precious new kitten...

A newborn kitten may take a while before it begins to breathe; a kitten that does not breathe spontaneously can be stimulated by the licking action of the dam as the amniotic sac is ruptured but a breeder may intervene if this does not happen promptly!

A kitten's low basal metabolism at birth enables it to cope with hypoxia during birth, after which its heart rate increases to 180-220bpm and its respiration to 15-35 (breaths per min). Its internal temperature is 35.5°C at birth, increasing to 38.5°C by around 5 weeks of age. Chilling is a major danger to a wet newborn; it is therefore essential to ensure that kittens are quickly dried before exposing them to a heat source such as an infrared lamp (which takes away latent heat from the wet skin).

Touch is the most developed sense at birth along with smell which continues developing until 3 weeks. A sucking reflex is present and response to pain evident at this early stage.

Up to 3 weeks of age kittens spend up to 90% of their time sleeping and the remainder suckling.

Their body systems are immature at birth. Immature kidneys affect the balance of water and electrolytes. The skin is thin (with a large surface area to bodyweight ratio) and it only has a thin layer of keratin. The risk of dehydration is therefore elevated in a neonate.

Thermoregulation (the ability to control body temperature) is absent at birth and kittens have no brown fat (to store heat). The shivering reflex only develops at around 7 days old. Kittens are unable to control their own body temperature until 3-4 weeks old. A rectal temperature of below 34 °C depresses digestive process (so a cold kitten cannot digest food) and the sucking reflex becomes affected at less than 32 °C (so a kitten chilled to this level will not even attempt to feed). It is therefore vital for a breeder to maintain optimum temperature (and relative humidity) in the kittening box/pen during this time to prevent chilling and dehydration.

Neonatal livers have insufficient glycogen stores increasing risk of hypoglycaemia (low blood sugar). Intestinal permeability exists for 16-24 hours during which time enterocytes allow transfer of immunoglobulins into bloodstream. Essentially, maternally derived antibodies - MDAs - are passed to kittens through lactation serving to protect their immature immune systems. These protective antibodies start to wane as the kitten reaches the weaning stage and continue to drop until the initial vaccination boosts protection from around 9 weeks. Kittens can usually only digest lactose until around 5 weeks of age.

The newborn has a disproportionately large head and has an average birthweight of around 100g; this average is given over multiple breeds and varies between breed types (range 60-170g) and litter size. An average weight for my own (Burmese) kittens is 87g (range 60-117g - over 7 litters totalling 33 kittens). Weight gain in the first week should double a kitten's body weight by day 7-10, followed by typically 10-20g per day in the first few weeks. On average, a kitten multiplies its birth weight by a factor of 2 at 10 days, 4 at 4 weeks and 8 at 8 weeks of age. The peak growth period is generally between 15-20 weeks of age. The boys are usually heavier than the girls by 6 weeks of age if not well before! The size of individual kittens may vary with litter size - larger litters generally producing lower average birth weights. An ideal litter size in my opinion is 4-6 kittens (my own average litter size is 4.7 based on the last 7 litters born).

The limbs lengthen and strengthen first, followed by trunk and pelvis

(which grow rapidly over 12 weeks). Uncoordinated paddling movements in the 1st 2 weeks progress to walking by around day 17 with the ability to scratch the ear with a hind limb by 3 weeks. At 3 weeks a kitten is able to retract its claws, urinate and defecate voluntarily (response to maternal licking stimulus declines around days 23-29).

Teeth are absent at birth with incisors erupting between 2-4 weeks, canines at 3-4 weeks and premolars at around 8 weeks. Adult dentition does not start to appear until 14-18 weeks. Kittens will have 26 teeth compared with an adult's 30.

At birth the auditory canal is closed; it opens in the 2nd week enabling the kitten to turn its head towards noise at 12 days, to orientate itself at 15 days and distinguish noise at 20 days. At 4 weeks it can recognise the queen's sounds. As you might imagine, most mums have a vast vocal repertoire!

Born with eyelids shut, palpebral and pupillary reflexes develop during week 1. Eyes open typically between 5-7 days (range 3-14). The kitten's depth of vision is acquired from 3-4 days. Visual acuity is developed by 25th day after eyes open. Iris colour appears around day 30 (Burmese babies have blue eyes in these early days, changing to chartreuse as colour develops with increase in melanin).

New-borns are entirely dependent upon the queen's milk for nutrition until around 3-4 weeks. At 2 weeks they may show an inclination to drink water from a bowl. At 3-5 weeks the weaning process begins the transition to "solid" diet (ok, it's a moist mush to start with!) They are observational learners and get the idea from mum and each other... it can be a rather messy process! The calorific requirement for kittens is huge - around 250 k/calories per 1kg bodyweight (up to 5 x that of an adult cat!). By 13 weeks of age my own kittens will have grown to around 1500g - 2 kg (Yes, the boys are usually heavier than the girls) Quite incredible really.

The most 'influential' stage of a kitten's behavioural development is between 2-7 weeks. During this time it is the job of the breeder to gently accustom the kitten to its environment and family life by appropriate and regular handling (ideally by all members of the family) The sights, smells and sounds of a busy family household (including exposure to other cats and animals) are all key to producing happy, cheeky, playful and confident bundles of love ready to train up their new devoted slaves - which we, as breeders, have taken care to select from a cast of thousands during the 13 weeks that these delightful little kittens have taken over our lives and hearts!

A summary of the main events...

0-2 weeks

Eyes and ear canals are closed at birth.

Rooting instinct strong to feed/huddle with litter mates for warmth.

Maternally initiated feeding/elimination.

Sucking reflex and pain response is present at birth.

The umbilical cord falls off from around 3 days - 1 week.

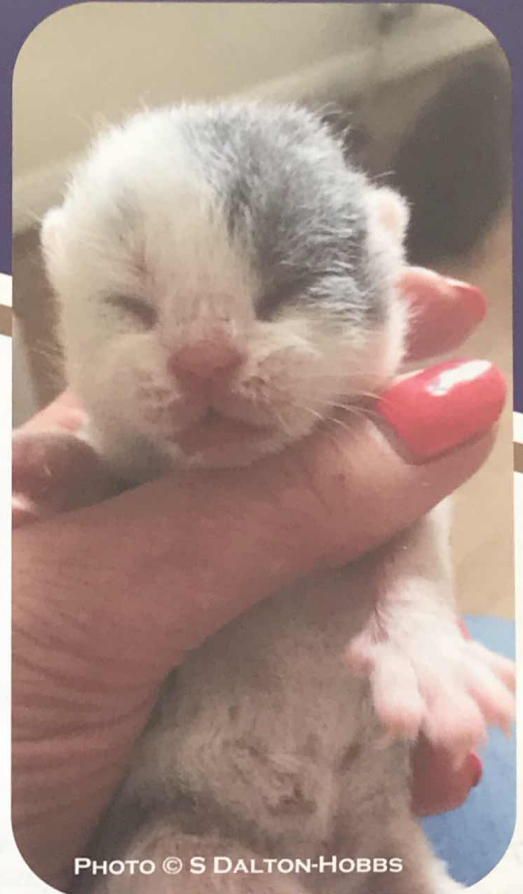

Eyes are open 5 -7 days (range 3-14).

There is no thermoregulation (rectal temp 35.5 °C).

The shivering reflex develops at around 1 week.

Birthweight is multiplied by factor of 2 by 10 days.

The instinct to lap water from bowl develops at 2 weeks.

3-4 weeks

Kitten is totally dependent on queen for nutrition until 3-4 weeks.

Milk teeth appear from week 3.

Birthweight is multiplied by factor of 4 by 4 weeks.

Iris colour appears from around 4 weeks.

Balance improves.

From start of week 3 the kitten enters its most important phase of social development...

Interest in environment increases coupled with improved motor skills, strength and coordination from week 4.

From 2-3 weeks they begin to groom themselves and by week 4 they start to play with toys as well as each other.

5-6 weeks

The coat quality starts to change (kitten "fluff" sheds).
MDAs start to decline (immune system is susceptible until vaccination booster provides protection!).
Voluntary elimination by 5 weeks (& we all know what fun a litter tray can be!).
Can kill prey at 5 weeks (ok, well - luxury stuffed mouse anyone??!!).
Rectal temp increases to 38.5°C.
Ability to digest lactose declines around 5 weeks.
Running at 5 weeks, adult gait at 6 weeks.
Sexual dimorphism apparent by 6 weeks (Boys generally bigger!).

7-8 weeks

The early social development achieved from week 2 to this point largely influences a kitten's ability to adapt confidently in adult life!
Eye-paw co-ordination develops and play may become rather rough.
Kittens are observational learners and they copy their siblings as well as their mother.
Birthweight is multiplied by factor of 8 by 8 weeks.

BEWARE!

It is at this point that unregistered breeders, or the owners of moggy females that they do not neuter will generally attempt to sell their kittens!

Unvaccinated.
Barely weaned.
Socially under developed.
Largely not litter trained.
With possible health issues.

9-10 weeks

1st vaccination at 9 weeks boosts immunity as MDAs wane significantly - most vaccine induced immunity is usually acquired from this 1st booster.

Complex motor skills develop around 10 – 11 weeks.

11-13 weeks

Social play activity prevalent at 12-14 weeks (increasingly 'predatory' in nature).

Immune system continues to develop throughout the 1st year.

Vaccine induced immunity is boosted following second inoculation at 12 weeks.

In the absence of any adverse reaction in the 7 days after this 2nd booster kittens may be ready for their new homes...

"As you can see, this 13 week period is a time of rapid growth and behavioral change; the changes continue apace into the first year as body systems mature and characters develop into the engaging individuals we know and love.

I fall in love with every one of my kittens and as 13 weeks approaches I feel quite emotional at the thought of parting with any of them - and my husband worries in case I announce "We're keeping this one..." If I have conducted my "kitten interviews" well enough I consider that I have gained new friends in the process!"

BRITISH SECTION

The British Shorthair is a powerful, compact cat with a sturdy body and legs, a shortish tail and a round head with small, widely-spaced ears, large, round eyes and a short, straight nose. The coat is short, dense and crisp rather than fine and close-lying like the Burmese or Siamese, but with no fluffiness to it.

Black & Blue British

These two Self breeds are judged together in the Grand class.

Tabby British Shorthairs

In the British Tabbies the markings show up clearly on the short coat. The classic tabby pattern, with its "butterfly" marking on the shoulders and "oysters" on the flanks, and the mackerel pattern with thin unbroken lines running vertically from the spine are judged together. In the Spotted the markings consist of numerous clear spots of dark colour on a paler background, with no unbroken lines on the body or legs. In all except the Black Silver Tabbies and Spotties the eye colour is copper, orange or deep gold.

GCCF BREEDER SCHEME

We take breeding seriously...

...with over 324 members, we'll have the right cat for you...

We currently have over 324 breeders on our register representing over 31 of the different breeds GCCF recognises, with new breeds and breeders being added each month.

Health & welfare is at the heart of everything the GCCF does; our principle aim is to encourage Responsible Breeding of pedigree cats, and Responsible Owning of all cats, pedigree or otherwise – that is why we set up the GCCF

Breeder Scheme in 2013, to help us achieve that objective.

Breeders who have signed up to the GCCF Breeder Scheme have shown their commitment to the standards required by the scheme's code of ethics. Please note that not all GCCF breeders will have signed up to using the scheme; this does not mean that they are not excellent or reputable breeders.

The code requires breeders to meet various criteria, as listed below:

- They must show commitment to their breed by being a member of a GCCF affiliated cat club for the breed.
- They must be familiar with what the breed should look and behave like and endeavour to breed cats of this type.
- They must ensure that their own cats are well cared for.
- They must take steps to make sure the kittens they breed have the best chance of a happy, healthy life and leave them fit and well. Kittens must have completed the full course of vaccines, been examined by a vet at least twice and be GCCF registered and insured.

- They must try to make sure that kittens which they breed go to suitable loving homes and that their new owners are given the help and support they need to look after them.

Breeder's premises are currently not inspected as part of the scheme so you are advised to make sure you are happy with the environment and way in which the kittens are raised before purchasing. The GCCF cannot take responsibility for the health of any kitten purchased using the Breeder Scheme facility.

When you buy a kitten from a Breeder Scheme breeder you will have the opportunity to tell us what you think of them. We will use this information to make sure our breeders are meeting you and your new cat's needs.

Please note that we have tried wherever possible to keep the key colours the same as our live website.

Breeders who sign up for the Scheme have to supply a wealth of information to satisfy the current criteria.

The Scheme was created to provide a trustworthy environment for new owners to find a kitten that suits them. Breeders Scheme Members want to be supportive to the new owners of their kitten, providing help and advice on how best to care for their new addition to the family. The aim of the GCCF Breeder Scheme is to create a safe avenue for kittens (and cats) to be bought and sold. New owners want to know that the kitten they are buying is registered, has been properly cared for and they will have a person to go to for advice. The GCCF hope that by providing this service and becoming the "first stop" for kitten selection, backstreet breeders of unregistered and uncared for kittens will be driven out.

Key Points of the Scheme

- Every kitten bought from a GCCF Breeder Scheme Member will be registered, vaccinated, and carry an initial period of insurance.
- Every GCCF Breeder Scheme Member is supported by their Vet.
- Every GCCF Breeder Scheme Member is a member of at least one GCCF Breed Club relevant to the Breed they are selling so that they have a source of advice and access to the process that governs the way their Breed is registered.
- New owners can give feedback.

Registration for Breeders

For a breeder to become a part of the GCCF Breeder Scheme. There are 4 initial requirements:

1. They must already hold a GCCF registered prefix.
2. They must be a fully paid up member of a GCCF Full Member Cat Club relevant to the breed they wish to support; and remain a Full Member throughout the time they are registered on the Scheme. If the registered prefix is held in joint names, then both parties must remain breed club members throughout the time that they are registered on the Scheme.

3. They must have a vet that will endorse their application.

4. They must agree to abide by the Code of Ethics of the GCCF and the enhanced Code of Ethics of the Breeders Scheme.

Once these criteria have been met, the breeder may then complete and submit the required paperwork to the GCCF for the Board's approval.

General Code Of Ethics For Breeders And Owners

Registered owners of all GCCF registered cats/kittens accept the jurisdiction of The Governing Council of the Cat Fancy and undertake to abide by this general code of ethics.

1. Owners should think carefully and take advice before getting a kitten and choose a breed suited to their lifestyle.

They should only keep as many cats as they can care for responsibly.

2. Cats and kittens must be provided with warm and comfortable housing, with plenty of opportunity for exercise and play. The cat should be kept indoors at night for their own safety. Drinking water must be available at all times and cats must be fed regularly and adequately. Breeders will supply written details of all dietary requirements and give guidance concerning responsible ownership when placing cats in a new home.

3. All cats need some grooming to keep the cat in good condition and to check for parasites, e.g. fleas. Longhair cats need daily grooming to prevent the formation of knots and matted areas of fur which cause them considerable discomfort.

4. Veterinary attention must be sought whenever a cat is showing signs of illness.

5. Cats that are bought as pets, not for breeding, should be neutered or spayed at an age recommended by your veterinary surgeon. If cats are registered with Non-Active status, this means that under no circumstances should they be bred from; no progeny from these cats will be registered by the GCCF.

6. Breeders agree only to sell cats where there is a reasonable expectation of a happy and healthy life. An offer should be made at the time of sale to help with the rehoming if at any time circumstances require the cat to be found a new home.

7. Owners should not sell any cat to commercial cat wholesalers, retail pet dealers or directly or indirectly allow cats to be given as a prize or donation in a competition of any kind.

8. Breeders must not knowingly misrepresent the characteristics of the breed nor falsely advertise cats nor mislead any person regarding the health or quality of the cats and must draw attention of purchase to the implications of the Non-Active status when selling pet kittens.

9. Breeders selling kittens with Active Status should offer advice and support to the new owners. Owners should not breed cats in a way that is deleterious to the health of the cat or the breed.

10. Owners should consider carefully the best means of identifying their cats in case it should become lost. This can be done by means of a microchip which can be painlessly inserted under the cat's skin by your veterinary surgeon and then registering the number of your cat with the PetLog registration scheme run by Kennel Club/RSPCA and also by notifying the GCCF of the cat's chip number. The alternative is for the cat to wear some form of identification on a collar. However, there are dangers for cats wearing collars, as they may become hooked up and caught by them or more likely the collar will break or come off the cat's head, therefore preventing easy identification.

11. Breeders/owners must ensure that all relevant Governing Council of the Cat Fancy documents are provided to the new owner when selling or transferring a cat in accordance with Rule 10 (see below), including a copy of this code.

Recommendation

The GCCF strongly recommends that no kitten should be permitted to go to a new home before 13 weeks of age. (Scheme members MUST do this.)

Mating Certificate:- Section 1 Rule 3d

When a litter is registered, the application to register must be accompanied by a copy of the Mating Certificate which the owner of the stud must provide unless the person registering the kitten(s) is also the registered owner of the sire and at mating to the owner of the queen upon collection of the queen.

Transfer of Registration – Section 1 Rule 10

10a When a cat or kitten is advertised or sold as a pedigree cat or kitten, the breeder shall at the time of sale provide the purchaser with a properly completed pedigree signed by the breeder, carrying 3 generations at least showing all the breed numbers and registration numbers and also the breeder's name and address.
If the vendor is not the breeder,

then the pedigree must
additionally be signed by the vendor.
If the cat/kitten is not registered, a copy of the mating certificate (Rule 3d) shall be supplied by the vendor to the new owner.

10b. i. If, at the time of sale the cat or kitten is registered, the seller shall provide the purchaser with the registration card to enable a transfer of ownership duly completed and signed by the seller, unless it is jointly agreed in writing by both parties at the time of sale not to do so.

If this card is lost, damaged or otherwise unavailable a manual transfer form must be completed with the signatures of both parties.

ii. All kittens must be fully vaccinated against infectious enteritis (FPV), FHV and FCV ("cat flu") at least one week prior to sale and/or leaving for a new home unless it is agreed otherwise in writing and signed by both parties.

GCCF ADVANCED CODE OF ETHICS (in full)

The following is an voluntary 'best practice' standard for members of the GCCF Breeder Scheme, in addition to the GCCF General Code of Ethics for Owners and Breeders and the Defra Code of Practice for the Welfare of Cats.

The GCCF
Breeders' Code of Ethics
For GCCF Breeder Scheme

As a GCCF Breeder I am over 18 and pleased to make the following assurances:

1. Regarding my breed

1.1. I am a member of at least one GCCF affiliated breed club.

1.2. I am familiar with the Standard of Points and Registration Policy and work within the Breeding Policy for my breed.

1.3. I shall breed discriminately and only from cats in good health, of good breed type and with no known detrimental genetic health issues. I make use of any recommended health tests relevant to my breed.

1.4. I shall make sure that any cats I register on the GCCF active register, whether for myself or a fellow breeder, meet the same criteria.

1.5. I shall give careful consideration to the frequency with which a stud cat is used and with which queens they are mated with in order to maintain genetic diversity within the breed.

2. Regarding the day to day welfare of my cats

2.1. The health and welfare of my cats is my primary concern and I will take appropriate steps to ensure this is maintained at all times. I will take steps to minimise the spread of disease between cats by restricting contact between at risk cats, both on and off my premises. I will limit numbers to ensure this is possible.

2.2. I will maintain a good relationship with a veterinary practice who will support my endeavours.

3. Regarding the sale & placement of kittens

3.1. I will ensure to the best of my abilities that any cats I breed go to responsible, loving homes, where they will be properly cared for.

3.2. I will ensure kittens leave for their new homes fully vaccinated, insured and appropriately treated for parasites, vet health checked and to the best of my knowledge in good health.

3.3. In addition to the GCCF documentation and pedigree I will ensure that cats leave for their new homes with written information detailing their health records (including worming and flea treatments and vaccinations), feeding regime, general care and recommendations for neutering, or already neutered. Registration paperwork may not form part of this paperwork if ownership is already being processed by the GCCF at the request of the breeder or for any other genuine reason agreed between both parties at the time of sale.

3.4. I shall ensure that new owners are given information about, and contact details for the GCCF affiliated breed clubs I am a member of, relevant to the breed of the kitten.

3.5. I will ensure that all new owners are provided with a feedback form to assist with the quality assurance aspects of this scheme.

3.6. I will encourage the new owner to contact me should they need any help or advice and reply to any request promptly.

3.7. I will interact with fellow breeders and owners in a truthful and courteous manner.

4. My breeding practices

4.1. I will only mate a queen who is healthy and in good condition, and only as often as is appropriate for her wellbeing.

4.2. I will not accept into stud any queen that is registered with non-active status with the GCCF, or whose registration with another bona fide organisation is endorsed "not for breeding".

4.3. I shall do my best to ensure that any adult, former breeding cat that requires rehoming is neutered, and placed in the care of a suitably experienced person.

5. Regarding my Relationship with the GCCF

5.1. I am the holder of a GCCF registered prefix and I consent to the GCCF adding my personal contact details to the GCCF Breeder Scheme website.

5.2. I shall register or declare all my kittens born to GCCF registered parents.

5.3. I shall not engage with breeding programmes involving breeds not recognised by the GCCF for welfare or genetic reasons.

5.4. I am familiar with the GCCF's requirements for members of the Breeder Scheme and understand that the GCCF may on occasions contact my new kitten owners directly for the purpose of monitoring the effectiveness of the scheme. I understand that if I do not comply with this code of ethics I may be removed from the scheme.

Peace of mind... look for the GCCF's own "kitemark"

Breeders who are successful in applying to join the GCCF Breeder Scheme, displaying their commitment to healthy breeding, will be given a certificate displaying their names, the breed for which they have been certified, their membership number and the expiry date. They will also be given an electronic personalised copy of the Scheme's logo.

The logo will display the breeders own unique reference number, based on when they joined the scheme as well as the month and year that they renewed their membership. This is written along the bottom of the Scheme's logo and would read as follows:-

"GCCF Breeder Scheme No. 000XXX 1/17"
for example.

Breeder Scheme members may display the logo on their website, email and on their paperwork or when placing an advert for their kittens.

Breeder Scheme members are also required to give you a copy of the New Owner Questionnaire which is sent directly into the Office as an independent check that as members they are adhering to the code of ethics.

The questions are not onerous but are rather designed to give an insight into the breeders breeding practice, and the environment in which the kittens are being raised.

New Owner Questionnaire

Breeder's Name, Prefix, Breed, Date kitten or cat was collected, along with your name, address, telephone number and email address:

1. Where did you find out about your breeder?

2. Are you happy that your kitten(s) or Cat (s) appear healthy?

3. Were you happy that the breeder's cats appeared well cared for? (If you ticked "No" please provide further details in the comments section overleaf.)

4. a, If the cat you purchased was a kitten did you meet the Mum? b, If the breeder owned the Father did you meet him?

5. Did you receive a vaccination card completed by a vet?

6. a, Have you received your cat's GCCF registration certificate? B, Were you encouraged to transfer the cat into your own name?

7. Have you received insurance documents?

8. Please tick which aspects of cat care you were given written advice on: General Care, Neutering, Feeding Regime, Worming, Flea Treatments, Vaccinations.

9. Have you needed to contact your breeder since collecting your cat?

10. If so, did you receive a prompt and polite reply?

Quality

Care for a Lifetime - a difference which can be measured.

Kittens are magical creatures, it is enormous fun to watch them grow and learn, playing with their siblings or their human owners and toys. Kittens should go to their new owner as happy, healthy, confident, playful bundles of fur. They should be well socialised, and after a small amount of settling in time, should display all the inquisitive outgoing characteristics of their breed.

Compare this to the timid, small, barely weaned cats, sold by back yard breeders – with no vaccinations, no pedigree, and no back up, and the question you need to ask yourself is this:

Who would I want to buy a kitten from?

FOREIGN SECTION

The Foreign section encompasses twelve separate shapes of cat, further subdivided by coat and colour. They have a lithe elegance, intermediate in type between the chunky solidity of the Persians and British Shorthairs and the elongation of the Siamese and Orientals. They all have short coats except the Tiffanies which are included in this section because they are part of the Asian group.

Russian Blue - GEMS RUS a

This breed has a long, graceful body and legs with a fairly long tail and a medium length head with a short straight nose making a distinct angle with the forehead. The "Russian" look is created by the large ears set on top of the head, the prominent whisker pads either side of the nose and the almond-shaped, vivid green eyes. A distinctive feature of this breed is its short, fine, velvety dense, clear blue coat which stands up from the body and shows a beautiful silvery sheen.

Korat - GEMS KOR

Another breed of medium foreign type with a blue coat, which is glossy and close-lying but short to medium in length, with silver tipping. The type differences between this and other breeds are that the back is gently curved and the head is heart-shaped when viewed from the front; the ears are large and set high and the nose has a slight downward curve. The eyes, which are particularly large and luminous, are a brilliant green, although an amber cast is acceptable in younger cats.

Abyssinian

The Abyssinian is of a similar medium foreign build to the Russian, but with a very different expression, the ears being set wide apart on the gently curved, medium wedge head, while the large oriental eyes are amber, hazel or green. The coat is very short and fine, each hair having two or three bands of colour on it, thus giving the breed its distinctive ticked appearance.

Devon Rex - GEMS DRX

The Devon Rex is quite unlike any other breed of cat. The slender body is of medium length, the tail and legs are long, especially the hind legs, and the elegant neck tends to emphasise the head; this is wedge-shaped with full cheeks, a short muzzle, a strongly marked stop to the nose and large oval eyes. The big wide-based ears are set rather low on the head and the whisker pads are noticeable, particularly since the whiskers are crinkled. The coat, which may be any colour of any pattern, is very short, fine and soft and its waviness helps create the unique character of this breed.

TO BREED OR NOT TO BREED?

Choosing the best cats for the job...

Keeping or 'buying in' a promising kitten or a cat with 'potential' from a particular breeding line may be the practical reality for many breeders but most experienced breeders realise that kittens can change as they approach their breeding age. So how might breeders assess whether their chosen felines "have what it takes" to be a good breeding queen or stud cat? It's really important to say that the initial selection of a kitten of either sex (to keep for breeding) may need to be reviewed as maturity progresses - not all promising youngsters are cut out to be good mums and dads - rather like ourselves!

The theory may be clearer to define in writing than to put into practice and with all such assessments, it is an overall balance that usually influences a breeder in the selection of their own breeding cats. It's fair to say that both experience and an "eye for a type" play a role - oh yes, and just a bit of luck sometimes too!

This article highlights some of the main theoretical considerations that might ideally form part of that decision, and tries to illustrate points with evidence or reference wherever possible. Ok, so all that said, where do we start?

Health:

Few would argue that this should be the No.1 selection criteria. A strong and healthy cat should be selected in order to face the rigours of reproduction (and hopefully to produce the same in its offspring). Both the sire and dam should be in excellent health in the period before a stud visit and should not subsequently be mated unless in top condition. A male should be sound, strong and structurally normal with descended testes. When mature he should exhibit a keen interest in a calling female and should show liveliness, stamina and persistence in breeding behaviour. A female should be similarly sound and physically normal and come into regular call, ideally producing average-sized, healthy (unaided) deliveries. Selection for breeding should be a process subject to review if initial expectations are not achieved! The health of all breeding cats should be consistently monitored.

An apparently normal-looking cat that regularly suffers from bacterial and/or viral infections may have a compromised immune system. This may not a good start for any breeding programme as health should be the No.1 priority for us all. Although many adult cats will cope well enough themselves with the odd infection, the same may not be true for kittens (whether in utero, neonatal or with immature 'uneducated' immune systems).

Temperament & behaviour:

Ideally both the parents should have good temperaments. Temperament and 'boldness' are often credited as being inherited from the sire (although the sire would naturally get more opportunity to 'put his stamp' on his offspring due to greater opportunity for him to reproduce compared with any female). Although it can be very good to see some examples of kittens produced by a particular sire before a stud visit, it's worth remembering that the result of any mating is clearly an equation of both halves! The dam's temperament is equally important - not just for passing on to her kittens genetically and as a 'role model' by example - but also because her maternal behaviour is vital to the kittens' welfare.

The queen is a very important factor in influencing the behaviour of her own offspring. A fearful or aggressive female will increase the odds of her kittens behaving in the same way - so any history or evidence of maternal neglect, abandonment or aggression should be seriously considered. A breeding queen should be attentive and interested in her own kittens - neutering may be the kindest answer to any that (consistently) fail in this respect. Similarly, a kitten which has been neglected, abandoned or bullied by its mother is less likely to make a good mother itself.

Like people, some cats are just not well-equipped emotionally for motherhood! An easily stressed individual or one with timid, fearful disposition (particularly towards humans or other cats) is likely to increase its level of stress, timidity or fear in a demanding role such as a breeding cat. These are not qualities that equip it to deal with problems, and not desirable qualities to reproduce in its offspring.

Any cat (male or female) with aggressive tendencies would be an inappropriate addition to a breeding establishment.

A stud cat should exhibit interest in calling females and be persistent in his approaches and mating behaviour. If he is nervous and inhibited in his mating behaviour he is possibly not cut out for the job.

A bold and friendly male is frequently credited with passing on the same behavioural attributes to his kittens.

Reproductive History:

Ideally, choosing breeding cats from a line with a previous history of problems should be avoided. Examples such as poor maternal behaviour (neglect,

A good example of its type (according to the SOP - "Standard of Points") is an important consideration for a pedigree breeder. A breeding cat should have good conformation and be free from obvious (inherited) or veterinary defects. Although often judged by 'show performance' a good breeding animal need not be 'top show quality'. Often a cat of 'medium expression' who is good in all other ways can produce some amazing quality kittens!

abandonment or aggression), frequency of abnormal offspring (birth defects, still-borns), a pattern of problems with parturition /lactation, recurrence of weak/undersized kittens, or a record of 'assisted' deliveries should be considered. It is appreciated that this is not always easy to determine and that some problems may be "one-offs". Breeders selecting home-bred girls should know their own history but if "buying in" from another line a little research might be a sound idea.

In selection of a suitable stud, the 'reproductive record' in his line is particularly important as the potential number of kittens sired is much greater than for a queen (as with any quality or fault).

Catchy Images

The two pictures shown on the left and as an inset are of male Maine Coon, Matrix. The inset photo is of him aged 14 weeks as a kitten and 15 months as a young adult (already a GCCF Champion). The photo above shows his father Cliff (a Grand International Champion in Europe) aged 4.

Structural Congenital Abnormalities (non-inherited) such as poor conformation may affect the ability to reproduce and deliver healthy kittens. For example, if the pelvis is too narrow the chance of kittens being born by caesarean section may be increased - a problem perhaps more generally evident in breeds producing fewer, larger kittens.

Active Status:

In order for their progeny to be registered with the GCCF in the UK cats destined for breeding must be listed with "ACTIVE STATUS". In addition, a stud cat will need a "CERTIFICATE OF ENTIRETY" which is issued by a veterinary surgeon following examination to confirm that both testes appear normal and descended.

Maturity & Size:

Both cats should be sexually mature (this varies with breed and individual type) typically from around 1.5 years for a female when first bred (*1); typically 2 years onwards for a male. So when do you mate your girl for the first time? Different breeds mature at different times. In some breeds the girls may start to call regularly from a few months old, as many Burmese do, others won't mature until they are 18 months or two years, for instance Norwegian Forest Cats and Birmans. Maine Coons can take up to 4 to 5 years to fully mature. Some vets prefer that a breeding girl is mated younger than this if she has called regularly from a few months old, while others will still caution waiting a while. Whichever route is chosen, the cat's health and maturity will play an important factor.

Cats should be a good weight for their type and development and have a good body score at the point of considering a mating. Essentially, this means that the ribcage and spine should be palpable but not obviously visible, an 'abdominal tuck' or waist and little abdominal fat should be present.

As a guide, a female Burmese should weigh 2.5kg or more and a male 3.5kg or more -, according to Robinson (*2). A Birman female should weigh roughly the same weight as a Burmese girl, while an Egyptian Mau female would want to be 3 - 3.5kg so just a tiny bit more while as would Maine Coon female, The males of each breed vary slightly more, with a Birman 3.5 - 5kg, an Egyptian Mau 5 - 6.5kg and a Maine Coon 6 -10 kg in weight. Having said this, girls "in call" can lose weight and "working boys" may be typically lighter on the loins (this can be an issue when trying to show them!). However, an overweight female should not be bred unless her weight can be reduced as this can cause serious reproductive complications - in fact she may not even conceive if overweight.

Breeding cats should ideally be selected from queens who have been good mothers and whose kittens have a good growth record.

Although queens can usually continue to be bred until 6-8 years of age though there are always successful exceptions successfully, a younger animal may be considered best for breeding - particularly for a first mating.

Nutritional Status:

A breeding cat should eat well and be fed on an appropriate nutritionally rich diet to assist them in their reproductive role. A fussy eater may lack essential dietary components which may be necessary for reproductive function, growth and development. They may also pass fads to their offspring.

Litter size:

In this matter average is good: positive selection from an average-sized litter (for the breed) is advantageous - rather than very small or very large-sized litter - as litter size has been shown to be inheritable (and average-sized litters usually have the best start in life).

The photo opposite shows a Burmese girl Harlie with her own 5 kittens... and, wait a minute - 4 larger kittens from her mum's older litter!

A singleton or hand-reared kitten - however nice the type - may lack the essential innate qualities (and socialisation) necessary to rear or sire a litter due to its compromised start in life - even though she may be ridiculously affectionate towards humans and other animals.

Inbreeding Co-efficient:

The "IC" is a figure expressed as a percentage and measures the "degree of close relationship" of a mating (or proposed mating). It is calculated according to the number of generations analysed in a pedigree (the more generations, the higher the percentage).

This should be considered according to the type of breeding programme being undertaken. An IC can be generated by using pedigree software with a genetics extension (such as Breeders Assistant) or for a Burmese online at www.burmesepedigrees.com. Many of the GCCF breed clubs offer help and guidance in calculating the IC of the breeds they cater for. Generally, a lower co-efficient may be regarded as desirable in order to minimise the expression of detrimental (genetic) anomalies, but there are specific requirements when an increased homozygous effect is required to fix traits within a breeding line (such as the pursuit of the desired eye colour or coat). The GCCF states a figure of 1-25% is acceptable over 8 generations (or 20% over 6 generations; 17% over 5 generations). A figure higher than that warrants very thorough research into pedigrees to be confident that there is a minimal risk of defective traits being passed to offspring. At the extreme end of the scale it would not be considered sound practice to exceed 40%, and 50% is given as a 'absolute cut-off' (GCCF Breeding Policy: Inbreeding: 4.6-8). Breeding towards an extreme type may perpetuate a deformity in pursuit of an ideal standard. Head shape is an example of this where brachycephalic skulls give rise to neurological and upper respiratory tract deformity (*3) in some cases (a polygenic effect attributed to breeding short, flat head type as an ideal). It is a breeder's responsibility to know what problems may be more likely to occur within their breed and to do their best to avoid them.

PCR testing:

In an ideal world a breeding animal would be free from all known inherited diseases. Genetic testing is a valuable tool recently available to as breeders in order to rule out pre-disposition to certain diseases (according to breed) where genetic markers have been identified.

A buccal (cheek cell) swab can be sent to Bristol University (*4) or UC Davis to determine individual status - this will need to be done by a vet to ensure valid identification of the tested cat (cross-referenced with microchip). The ideal is a "normal" result but there are situations where "carrier" status individuals (of recessive markers) may remain in a breeding programme where results are responsibly managed and the implications understood. This may be desirable to avoid depleting a limited gene pool - a subject in its own right!

It is not necessary to test every cat, for example, when both the sire & dam (or their sires and dams) have been tested "normal". Kittens from a "carrier" mated to a "normal" cat, although apparently unaffected themselves, should be tested to determine their status if considered for future breeding.

Some examples of PCR tests available which may be variously appropriate to determine the presence of genetic markers include those for Hypokalaemia (blood potassium insufficiency), GM2 (lysosomal storage disease, in some European lines), Burmese Craniofacial Head Defect (associated with some lines in the USA, though breeding round head type especially the 'contemporary' variety), Polycystic Kidney Disease (PKD), Congenital myasthenicsyndrome (CMS), Pyruvate Kinase Deficiency (PKDef) and Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA) which are all tests for genetic diseases. These tests are particularly important - and indeed may be a requirement - when importing breeding cats. Then there are other hereditary traits that a cat can also be tested for which will help predict the colour, pattern and length of a cats coat as well as their blood type.

A full lists of genetic tests can be found at:

www.langfordvets.co.uk/diagnostic-laboratories/diagnostic-laboratories/general-info-breeders/list-feline-genetic-tests (discounts available to GCCF club members) along with www.vgl.ucdavis.edu/services/cat/ which are the two GCCF recommended laboratories.

The photo opposite shows one of the newer GCCF breeds. A Chartreux adult with five of their kittens. What is rather unusual about this photo however is that the adult cat is not the kittens mother Lilly, with her 4 to 5 week old kittens, but the kittens father, Jay.

... and don't forget the breeders:

Proper pedigree breeders, are the "guardians" of their breed. They make the decisions about which cats to pair (and when) that would otherwise have been determined by random selection. Who could argue that there is an element of luck in any successful pairing? Of course there is, but there must also be a reason why some good breeders seem to have repeated good luck. We would like to think that it is because, on balance, they are selecting the best cats for the job.

We have some truly stunning examples amongst our lovely pedigree cats proven both by individual successes on the show bench and "totally delighted" owners of pets - so my admiration goes out to the very best of you!

and irregular oestrus cycles when compared to younger queens. Queens younger than 1 year may lack physical or behavioural maturity to ensure healthy pregnancy/postpartum care. (Practical Guide to Cat Breeding, 2:76, Royal Canin).

AND INTRODUCING THE LYKOI...

PHOTOS © J & R PHOTOGRAPHS

The first Lykoi in the UK is Shalnavazz Teddy Lupin, pictured opposite. Teddy was born on the 14th May 2015.

Lykoi are bred for health, nature and type. Lykoi are wonderful and very affectionate, playful cats with highly intelligent and very inquisitive natures.

In the UK, the Lykoi have just started down the path towards future breed recognition within the Governing Council of the Cat Fancy. In the US, where they were first bred and recognised, they have been extensively tested for health issues, dominant traits and everything you've just read about in the proceeding eight pages in this article. Their paperwork was sent in to the GCCF offices this September. The breed is currently at least three or four years away from full GCCF recognition, though they had just been promoted to full Championship status for TICA.

About the cats

Lykoi have been bred from a natural mutation, found in the USA, Italy, France and other countries.

Natural Lykoi have been popping up for years, but they were usually euthanized or sterilised. This was because it was thought that there was something wrong with them due to their lack of undercoat. They have since been tested, are perfectly healthy and we are working towards a very healthy gene pool.

The name Lykoi was chosen for them, because Lykoi means werewolf in Greek, which is what it was thought the Lykoi looked like. This is due to the mask like appearance on their faces and the fact that they mutate like a werewolf.

Lykoi are born as fully coated fluffy kittens and start to mutate at around five days of age. They can become almost completely hairless but are not related to the hairless Sphynx. They will moult on and off throughout their lives.

Lykoi have what is known as a roan coat, which is known to no other cat breed. Roan means that for every black hair, there is a white hair.

BURMESE SECTION

The Burmese is another breed of medium foreign type, neither as cobby as the British nor as elongated as the Siamese, but highly distinctive. The tail tapers only slightly and the head has a gently rounded look to its blunt wedge, with a distinct nose-break. The medium size ears are set well apart and tilt slightly forward and the gently slanting eyes, neither round nor oriental, vary in colour from chartreuse, through the ideal golden-yellow, to amber.

Brown Burmese - GEMS BUR n

The colour of the Brown Burmese is a rich, warm seal-brown, marginally darker on the mask and ears and fading slightly to a lighter shade beneath.

A GUIDE TO MODERN DAY CAT SHOW TITLES

GCCF Certificates & Titles

Adult cats, both entire and neutered, are eligible to win Certificates. These lead to the award of official titles, a list of which is published quarterly. With the exception of Merit Certificates, Certificates are only awarded at Championship Shows. Winning a Breed, Grand, Imperial or Olympian class does not guarantee a Certificate as these are only awarded if the judge considers the cat to be of sufficiently high quality.

At all Championship Shows, entire ADULTS of full (championship) status breeds can win:

- Challenge Certificates
- Grand Challenge Certificates
- Imperial Grand Challenge Certificates
- Olympian Certificates

Supreme Show Only

- UK Grand Champion Certificates
- Best of Variety Adult Certificates
- Supreme Adult Certificate

PEDIGREE SECTION

At All Championship shows NEUTERS over the age of 9 months can win:

- Premier Certificates
- Grand Premier Certificates
- Imperial Grand Premier Certificates
- Olympian Certificates

Supreme Show only

- UK Grand Premier Certificates
- Best of Variety Neuter Certificates
- Supreme Neuter Certificate

Awarded at Champion & Sanction shows Adults, Kittens and Neuters of Preliminary status breeds can win:

- Merit Certificates

The official GCCF Titles for Pedigrees are:

| | |
|------------------------------|------------|
| Champion | (CH) |
| Grand Champion | (GRCH) |
| Imperial Grand Champion | (IGRCH) |
| UK Grand Champion | (UK GRCH) |
| UK & Imperial Grand Champion | (UK IGRCH) |
| Premier | (PR) |
| Grand Premier | (GRPR) |
| Imperial Grand Premier | (IGRPR) |
| UK Grand Premier | (UK GRPR) |
| UK & Imperial Grand Premier | (UK IGRPR) |
| Olympian Bronze | (OB) |
| Olympian Silver | (OS) |
| Olympian Gold | (OG) |

Winning Supreme Adult or Supreme Neuter adds "Supreme" to any other title the cat may hold.

A cat retains its title after he or she has been neutered, so many cats are "Champion & Premier", "Imperial Grand Champion & UK Grand Premier" etc. The ultimate title would be "Supreme UK & Olympian Gold Imperial Grand Champion & Supreme UK & Olympian Gold Imperial Grand Premier".

Challenge Certificates

These are awarded to the first prize winners of entire Adult Open classes for full (championship) status breeds, both male and female. Three Challenge Certificates awarded by three different judges make the cat a Champion.

Grand Challenge Certificates

At ordinary Championship shows, full Champions may compete in special Grand classes for Champions only. The winner of each Grand class is eligible to be awarded a Grand Challenge Certificate. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Grand Challenge Certificate: this means that if the Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate winner will be awarded the Grand Certificate, which will count towards a title. No further placings are made in these classes, even if the certificates are withheld.

Three Grand Challenge Certificates awarded by three different judges make the cat a Grand Champion.

Imperial Grand Challenge Certificates

At ordinary Championship shows, Grand Champions compete in Imperial Grand classes. The winner of each Imperial Grand class is eligible to be awarded an Imperial Grand Challenge Certificate. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Imperial Grand Challenge Certificate: this means that if the Imperial Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate winner will be awarded the Imperial Grand Certificate, which will count towards a title. No further placings are made in these classes, even if the certificates are withheld. Five Imperial Grand Challenge Certificates awarded by five different judges make the cat an Imperial Grand Champion.

UK Grand Challenge Certificates

At the Supreme Show only, there are special classes solely for Imperial Grand Champions, UK Grand Champions, UK & Imperial Grand Champions and Olympian Imperial Grand Champions, again split male and female. The winners are eligible for UK Grand Challenge Certificates, two of which, awarded by two different judges, make the cat a UK & Imperial Grand Champion. There is no Reserve UK Grand Challenge Certificate.

Premier Certificates

These are awarded to the first prize winners of adult Neuter Open classes for full (championship) status breeds, both male and female. Three Premier Certificates awarded by three different judges make the cat a Premier.

Grand Premier Certificates

At ordinary Championship shows, Premiers compete in special Grand classes for Premiers only. The winner of each Grand class is eligible to be awarded a Grand Premier Certificate. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Grand Premier Certificate: this means that if the Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate winner will be awarded the Grand Certificate which will count towards a title. No further placings are made in these classes, even if the certificates are withheld. Five Grand Premier Certificates awarded by five different judges make the cat a Grand Premier.

are made in these classes, even if the certificates are withheld. Five Imperial Grand Premier Certificates awarded by five different judges make the cat an Imperial Grand Premier.

At ordinary Championship shows, Grand Premiers compete in special Imperial Grand classes for Grand Premiers only. The winner of each Imperial Grand class is eligible to be awarded an Imperial Grand Premier Certificate. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Imperial Grand Premier Certificate: this means that if the Imperial Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate Premier Certificates.

UK Grand Premier Certificates

At the Supreme Show only, full Grand Premiers have special classes solely for Grand Premiers, Imperial Grand Premiers, UK Grand Premiers and UK & Imperial Grand Premiers, again split male and female. The winners are eligible for UK Grand Premier Certificates, two of which, awarded by two different judges, make the cat a UK Grand Premier or a UK & Imperial Grand Premier if it has additionally gained that title. There is no Reserve UK Grand Premier Certificate.

Olympian Bronze, Silver & Gold Certificates

Imperial winners can aim higher still and compete for an Olympian Certificate. These cats will compete against other Imperial Grand Champions or Imperial Grand Premiers with just 4 certificates offered per show, as males and females compete separately in each category. In pursuit of an Olympian title, bronze, silver and gold levels can be obtained. A cat must win 4 of the 5 certificates needed for each level at All Breed Shows, and all 5 of the certificates at each level must be awarded by different judges.

Additional Certificate Best In Show Win

Any Adult or Neuter cat who wins Best in Show will be awarded another certificate to the value of the title they are currently trying for, or the next progressive level up in the case of the cat being made up on show day.

It is worth noting that this counts as a BREED Show certificates for the Olympian titles not an all-breed show.

At the Supreme - Best of Variety Certificates

At the Supreme Show, each Best of Variety Winner, Adult, Kitten and Neuter, is awarded a Certificate.

If an Adult is not yet a Champion, this BOV Certificate will count as a Challenge Certificate. If a Neuter is not yet a Premier, this BOV Certificate will count as a Premier Certificate.

If the Winner is already a Champion, the BOV Certificate is considered to be a Grand Challenge Certificate. If the winner is already a Premier, the BOV Certificate is considered to be a Grand Premier Certificate.

If the winner is already a Grand Champion, or Grand Premier, the BOV certificate is considered to be an Imperial Grand Champion or Imperial Grand Premier Certificate.

Kittens also win Best of Variety Certificates but these do not count towards a title.

Any Imperial or Olympian titled cat that wins Best of Variety will be awarded an additional Olympian certificate.

Supreme Certificates

The Supreme Adult, Kitten and Neuter are each awarded a Certificate. For the Adult and Neuter this will also count towards their current title. If the Supreme Adult is not yet a Champion, this Supreme Certificate will count as a Challenge Certificate. If he or she is already a Champion it will count as a Grand Challenge Certificate.

If the cat has already been awarded a UK Grand Challenge Certificate, it will count as the second UK Grand Certificate, giving the cat the title of Supreme UK Grand Champion.

If the Supreme Neuter is not yet a Premier, this Supreme Certificate will count as a Premier Certificate. If he or she is already a Premier It will count as a Grand Premier Certificate. If the cat has already been awarded a UK Grand Premier Certificate, it will count as the second UK Grand Certificate, giving the cat the title of Supreme UK Grand Premier.

"Supreme" in front of any existing titles.

The Certificate awarded to the Supreme Kitten does not count towards any future titles but the exhibit may put "(Supreme Kitten 2017)" after his or her name in catalogue entries and on pedigrees.

Merit Certificates

Adults, Kittens and Neuters of Preliminary status breeds, the first stage of recognition of a breed, do not have Breed classes. They are shown in Assessment classes, where each exhibit is assessed individually against its Standard of Points. If the judge considers the cat to conform to its Standard of Points, with none of the listed withholding faults for the breed, a Merit Certificate is awarded. In order for a cat to become a "qualifier" and help towards the progression of its breed to Championship status, it must win four Merit Certificates from four different judges, of which not more than two may be won in kitten classes.

HOUSEHOLD PET & PEDIGREE PET SECTION

The Household Pet (HHP) Section is divided into two groups – Non-Pedigree Pets for those cats of traditional Non-Pedigree appearance and Pedigree Pets for cats with known, unknown, full or half pedigree background or "closely resembling" a known breed. Each group is then split into Long/Semi-Longhaired and Short-Haired Classes which are then further split for colour and pattern. The classes are – Non-Pedigree Pets - Self (Any single colour, black, white, red/ginger etc. PLUS "self" colours with white, i.e. black & white, blue & white, red/ginger & white etc.). Tabby (any tabby pattern or colour EXCEPT red/ginger or tortie tabby, again with or without white). Any Ginger/Tortie/Tortie Tabby (including ginger tabbies, again with or without white).

Pedigree Pets – as for Non-Pedigree Pets PLUS AOC – Any Other Colour – this class is for ALL Pointed, Tipped, Shaded, Smoke etc. cats and breeds such as Ragdolls, Birmans, Siamese go into this class REGARDLESS OF THE COLOUR OF THE POINTS.

So a Tabby Point Birman, for example, will be in this class and not the Tabby class, as will any tortie point etc.

Cats are entered under their normal "pet" names, although some exhibitors do have fun with "posh show names" as long as these are not more than 2 or 3 words long, and in the Pedigree Pet section no prefixes, titles, breed names or numbers can be used; cats will be entered either by their pet name or, if registered, the registered name, without the prefix, may be used. All Household Pets aged 6 months and over must be neutered.

HHPs, having no Standard of Points for their shape, colour and pattern etc., are judged on temperament, condition, grooming and personality. Whilst most cats shown in this section will be in tip-top sparkling condition and purring their heads off, there are some that have that extra "wow factor" or "show presence" and these cats will generally do very well. However, it is often the case that several or all cats in a class are equal on all counts and in these cases the winner is the one the judge likes best!

Since 2009 HHPs have been allowed to compete for titles similar to those of their pedigree counterparts. These titles can be gained by winning the relevant certificates at participating shows licensed by the GCCF and are:

At all Championship Shows, Household Pets & Pedigree Pets can win:

Master Cat Certificates
Grand Master Cat Certificates
Imperial Master Cat Challenge Certificates
Olympian Certificates

Supreme Show Only

UK Grand Master Cat Certificates
Best of Variety Certificates
Supreme Non Pedigree Certificate
Supreme Pedigree Pet Certificate
Supreme Kitten Certificate

The official GCCF Titles for Household & Pedigree Pets are:

| | |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| Master Cat | (MC) |
| Grand Master Cat | (GMC) |
| Imperial Grand Master Cat | (IGMC) |
| UK Grand Master Cat | (UK GMC) |
| UK & Imperial Grand Master Cat | (UK IGMC) |
| Olympian Bronze | (OB) |
| Olympian Silver | (OS) |
| Olympian Gold | (OG) |

Master Cat Certificate

This is attained by the awarding of three Master Cat certificates by three different judges. The winning cat must have a good temperament, be presented well, be shown in very good condition and have a good personality too.

Grand Master Cat Certificate

This is attained by the awarding of three Grand Master Cat certificates by three different judges. A cat at this level has to have an excellent temperament, be presented to the highest standard, be shown in excellent condition and have an affectionate and confident personality. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Grand Master Cat Certificate: this means that if the Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate winner will be awarded the Grand Certificate which will count towards a title. No further placings are made in these classes, even if the certificates are withheld.

Imperial Grand Master Cat Certificate

This is attained by the awarding of five Imperial Grand Master Cat certificates by five different judges. At this level, the winning cat must be exceptional in every way. The second placed cat is eligible for a Reserve Imperial Grand Master Cat Certificate: this means that if the Imperial Grand Certificate winner is disqualified, the Reserve Certificate winner will be awarded the Imperial Grand Certificate which will count towards a title.

UK Grand Master Cat Certificates

At the Supreme Show only, there are special classes solely for Imperial Grand Master Cats, UK Grand Master Cats, UK & Imperial Grand Master Cats and Olympian Imperial Grand Master Cats, again split male and female. The winners are eligible for UK Grand Master Cat Certificates, two of which, awarded by two different judges, make the cat a UK Grand Master Cat or a UK & Imperial Grand Master Cat if it has additionally gained that title. There is no Reserve UK Grand Master Cat Certificate.

Olympian Bronze, Silver & Gold Titles

An Olympian winner must be an outstanding cat that is not only presented to perfection, have an outstanding temperament and shown in peak condition, its personality should demonstrate that extra "presence" and show quality that makes it stand out as definite "Best in Show"! The Household Pet Section is treated in exactly the same way as cats in the Pedigree Sections as far as titles and class qualifications are concerned. Therefore ONLY ONE Olympian Certificate from a Breed Show may be counted towards an Olympian Title at each level the other four must be won at all-breed shows. Any certificates won at the previous level cannot be used or count towards the title at the next level.

There are three levels of Olympian titles. Bronze (OB) is gained by being awarded five Olympian certificates from five different judges. Silver (OS) requires five further certificates from five different judges (can be judges that awarded at the previous level). Gold (OG) requires yet another five certificates from five different judges (again can be judges that awarded at the previous level).

Additional Certificate Best In Show Win

Any Non-Pedigree or Pedigree Pet who wins Best in Show will be awarded another certificate to the value of the title they are currently trying for, or the next progressive level up in the case of the cat being made up on show day. It is worth noting that this counts as a BREED Show certificates for the Olympian titles not an all-breed show.

Since June

2017 any HHP wishing to claim

A title MUST be registered. Registration is not compulsory in order to show your HP, and an already titled cat will not lose any titles gained previously, but an unregistered HHP cannot claim new titles. Titles are administered by the GCCF (our thanks go to Lesley Szwed who started the system and formerly administered it) and all claims must be sent to the GCCF. Title claim forms can be found on the Forms/Downloads page, and can be posted or emailed. All claims are acknowledged and, periodically, a list of titled cats will be published on the GCCF website. Titles are now also updated on the exhibitor's page if signed up for online services.

Household Pets at the GCCF Supreme Show

HHPs also have their own section at the Supreme Show for both sections. The classes comprise Kitten, Pre-MC, MC, GMC and I GMC Classes for cats to enter at their relevant level. For the first time in 2009 HPs with the title Grand Master were able to compete at the GCCF Supreme Show to win a UK Grand Master Certificate.

The male and female winners of each class will compete for Best of Colour and then for Best of Group with the winners going forward to compete for Best In Show. There will be three Overall Best in Show winners for the for the HP Section at the Supreme Show, they will be Supreme Non-Pedigree Exhibit, Supreme Pedigree Pet Exhibit and Supreme Household Pet Kitten (Kitten Class winners from both Non-Pedigree and Pedigree Pet sections) and each will subsequently be able to include the coveted "Supreme" in their title. It will be the ultimate accolade that a Household Pet is called a Supreme, UK and Olympian Gold Imperial Grand Master Cat.

If you've been inspired to try showing your pet cat after reading this article, why not join the Household Pet Cat Club of Great Britain? The GCCF is the first cat Registration body in the UK to have granted Membership to a cat club purely for Non-Pedigree and Pedigree Pet Cats. You do not need to own a pedigree cat to be eligible to join this club.

Non-Pedigree cats and Pedigree Pets are welcome to enter ALL GCCF registered shows where their classes are offered, but from February 2018 the Household Pet Cat Club of Great Britain will have their own show dedicated to cats of Non-Pedigree appearance and their pedigree pet counterparts.

Details of all GCCF shows, their dates, locations and entry fees and requirements can be found at www.gccfcats.org Click on the Show Information tab and then the Calendar for further details. The Household Pet Cat Club of Great Britain has their own website which can be found at www.thehouseholdpetcatclubofgreatbritain.co.uk

The GCCF - Giving Cat Care Forever

ORIENTAL SECTION

The Orientals have the elongated foreign type of the Siamese, with the same elegant length of head, neck, body, legs and tail and the very short, glossy coat, but lack the gene which restricts the colour to the points. They are recognised in ten self-colours and seven tortie colours, together with their silver versions, in a variety of patterns giving a total of over two hundred different colour schemes. The section also includes the Angora, the Oriental semi-longhair.

Foreign White, Oriental Black and Oriental Blue

The Foreign White, Oriental Black and Oriental Blue are judged against each other for the UK Grand certificate.

Oriental Spotted Tabby - GEMS OSH * 24

Apart from its Oriental type, the essential of this breed is its well defined spotted tabby pattern. All colours, including the tortie spotties and the silver versions of all seventeen colours are judged together. The eye colour is green, although it may be less vivid in the Red, Cream and Apricot Spotties.

Oriental Longhair - GEMS OLH *

This breed differs from the Oriental shorthairs only in its coat length. It is found in the whole range of Oriental colours and patterns and, like the Balinese, has a silky flowing coat, lacking the thick undercoat found in many semi-longhairs and quite unlike the long, thick coat of the Persian.

PICKET FENCE EVENTS PRESENT:

www.bravetheshave.org.uk

WITH JOHN HANSSON

John Hansson is Braving the Shave today in order to raise money for fabulously worthwhile Macmillan Cancer Support in memory of several very good friends. (John's full story can be read on page 19). He is also joined by Ian from MF Penning.

Fresh from her Grooming Demonstrations Tania Murray is happy to turn her hand to anything and has agreed to DO THE DEED. There will be plenty of sponsorship forms in front of the Picket Fence area and on the GCCF Main Stand so don't forget to splash the cash as they go beneath the razor.

Timing to be announced.

GCCF CLUBS, SOCIETIES & ASSOCIATIONS

The GCCF has over 150 clubs, societies and associations which are full members of its governing body. Where a breed is mentioned by name, the "club" is classed as a Breed Club and will cater for the Breed or Colours specified in the name. Where a "club" mentions a location then they are classed as an All-Breed Club.

YES! the GCCF Young Exhibitors' Scheme covers all of the UK mainland and Northern Ireland, but is split into Northern, Southern and Kitten administration.

The Governing Council of the Cat Fancy is so much more than just the sum of our clubs – together we have a world of knowledge.

Did you know we can also offer advice on the health and welfare of cats? We have lots of written information and links on our website www.gccfcats.org including cat behaviour, cats and the law, keeping cats safe, health and the aging cat, neutering and pain relief, rescue and re-homing.

There is also information of basic cat genetics, our outcrossing and breeding policies – every Breed “club” must have one in place to ensure the health and wellbeing of the cats. We’ve information on importing and exporting cats from Europe and almost anywhere in the world into the GCCF and the UK with links to DEFRA (the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs) which lists all the legal requirements as well as links to the Pet Passport scheme.

SIAMESE AND BALINESE SECTION

The Siamese type is the most elongated of all, but strong and beautifully balanced, with a long svelte, muscular body, fine legs and feet, a long tapering tail and an elegant neck. The head and large ears form a triangle and the oriental eyes slant towards the nose. The coat of the Siamese is very fine, short, glossy and close-lying, while that of the Balinese is silky and flowing. The colour is, of course, highly distinctive, the eyes being clear bright blue and the beauty of the coat lying in the contrast of the darker points and paler body colour.

Balinese - GEMS BAL

This breed is the longhaired equivalent of the Siamese, being identical in shape and bred in all the Championship Siamese colours, plus Caramel and Apricot, with the same blue eyes. The coat is fairly long and silky, especially on the plume-like tail. These cats are bred from Siamese and are completely unrelated to the Colourpoint long-hairs.

PICKET FENCE EVENTS PRESENT:

CUDDLY TOY FUN COMPETITION

Throughout the morning the Cuddly Toy Competition will be taking entries.

Entries are open to anyone with a Cuddly Toy. Entrance Fee is £1.

This event is being run by YES! Candidates and YES! Kitten Club. Event Organiser Sophie Hughes (11) an Intermediate Level Candidate (along with her granddad Mike) will be pleased to welcome you and keep your toys safe until judging commences.

At the time of going to press, we don't have the exact times that judging will commence, but it's usually around mid - day so do keep an eye on the time. The Picket fence area is right in front of the stage, look on the back page of the catalogue for details.

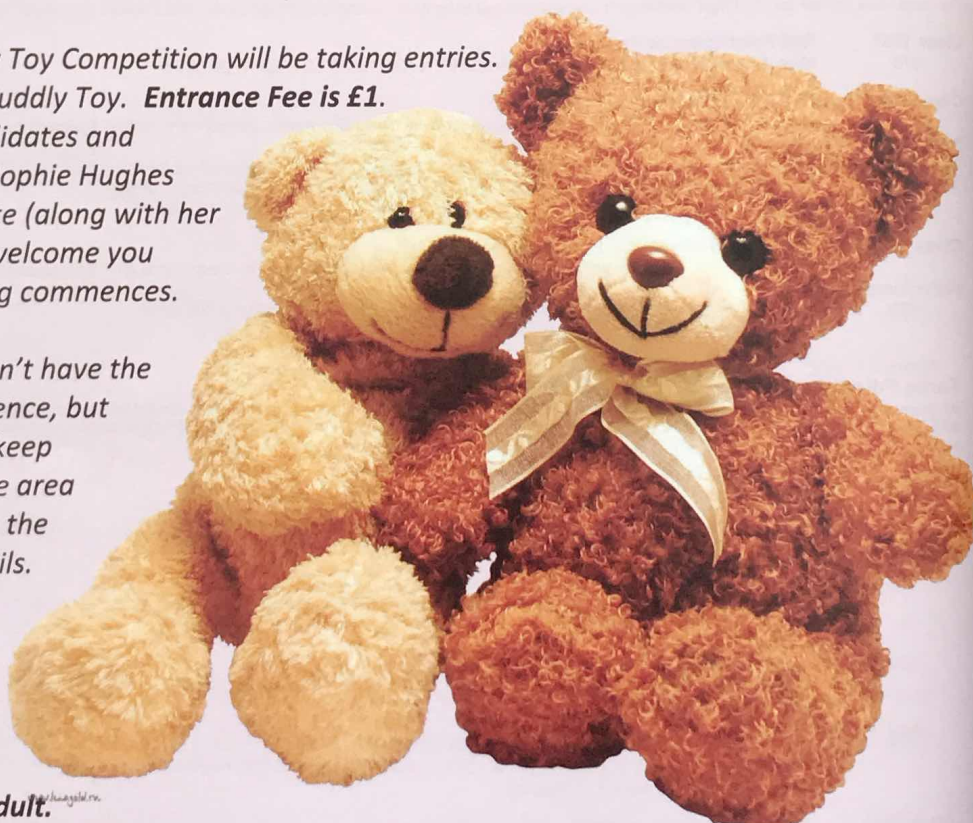

There are two classes:

T1 - Any Cuddly toy owned by a child under 16.

T2 - Any cuddly toy owned by an adult.

Classes may be split depending on numbers entered.

The Judges for the Cuddly Toy Competition are YES! Intermediate Candidate Saffron Saul (14) and YES! Kitten Club judge Charlie Samuel (4).

GCCF YOUNG EXHIBITORS' SCHEME

We currently have over 75 Candidates on the scheme from all across the UK – England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

What is YES!

YES! is an educational programme designed to encourage youth participation in the Cat Fancy. It is a structured programme for the growth and development of Junior (8 – 16+) exhibitors within the GCCF. We hope to encourage young people to continue to enjoy their hobby as adults and so become the members, stewards, judges and show managers of the future.

What is the scope of YES!

The programme focuses upon responsible cat ownership and exhibition. Young exhibitors who join the scheme will be encouraged to progress from Novice to Advanced status through a series of structured activities, learning strategies and personal involvement.

The programme is designed to increase the candidate's knowledge of pedigree cats, their origins, body and head types, colours and patterns and their different coat qualities. The young people will develop their skills with regard to show preparation and grooming as well as the clerical aspects of entering cats into shows and recording results etc.

What can candidates achieve?

Success is measured and rewarded at every stage with a special focus on the candidate's practical knowledge of cats, cat care and cat shows.

One of the most exciting aspects of the YES! Programme is the Young Exhibitor Class at participating GCCF Shows; here the candidate presents their own cat to a judge and discusses aspects of ownership, care, diet and show preparation necessary to ensure peak condition, welfare and wellbeing. Candidates can progress from "Novice" to "Intermediate" through to "Advanced" Young Exhibitor through these presentations and by completing work sheets, show diaries etc. which will be moderated by the Mentors and Administrators.

For the Parents - What about Health & Safety?

The GCCF recommends parents are always aware of whom their child is working with at a show and/or contacting via the telephone or internet. The work of the YES! Programme is totally transparent.

All parents want to keep their children safe and as "risk free" as possible. The advantage of the YES! Programme is that it is a family activity where the candidate travels to and from shows with their parent(s)/guardian/ or a responsible adult chosen by the parents.

In common with other Cat Registration Bodies having a programme for young exhibitors, the GCCF has introduced a Parental/Medical Consent Form for parents/guardians to complete and sign before their child can participate in the scheme. This is for the benefit of the candidate, their parents/guardians and the YES! Programme.

At a Show

Health and Safety for each candidate is of paramount importance; each participant will receive an Information Sheet giving guidance for responsible and sensible behaviour at shows. At each level the candidates will be working with their own cats for Presentations, although at Advanced Level the handling of an alternative breed is required. It is the parent's responsibility to ensure that the cat handled by the candidate is appropriate for the age and ability of the young exhibitor making the presentation.

A copy of the Health & Safety information sheet must be kept in the Candidates' folders. The sheet lists all the do's and don'ts of working at a show, how to behave around the cats as well as the conduct expected from its Candidates.

Contact Outside a Show

Outside the show environment the Candidates should never be contacted by the Mentors or the Judges. Candidates may wish to arrange second stewarding opportunities with YES! judges outside of a show, but they are advised not to contact the judges directly themselves, but to ask a parent/guardian to do so on their behalf. YES! has an invitation only Facebook page, specifically for the Candidates. Their parent(s)/guardians and mentors, monitored closely by the YES! administrators where such requests may be made in safety and in confidence.

YES! has 3 Administrators (alongside the GCCF Board Liaison) who have undertaken enhanced DBS checking and who are cleared to work closely with young people. They are the only people who will work with candidates via telephone and email "one to one" on a regular basis.

Who are the Administrators?

The YES! Administrators are Georgina Anderson-Keeble, Daphne Butters and Lesley Szwed – their details are on the YES! website. The GCCF Liaison Officer is Board Director Lynda Ashmore.

What activities are carried out at Novice Level?

Upon joining the scheme the Candidates will be given a unique log in code and reference number for the Candidates area on the YES! website. This is where the information and worksheets are housed along with sample questions and the activities the Candidate needs to compete the course at each level.

At the Novice Level Candidates will need to:-

- Show their cat at a minimum of FOUR GCCF shows and keep a record of the entry, their day at the show and their cat's results.
- Learn about Health & Safety at Cat Shows.
- Learn about the different shapes and sizes of cats.
- Find out about the different head shapes of different breeds of cats.
- Find out about SELF and NON-SELF cats.
- Write a project about their cat or complete the worksheet "My Cat".
- Complete at least SIX worksheets for young exhibitors at Novice Level.
- Work at a show and collect certificates for this work.
- Make sure they know all about caring for their cat and its daily routine as well as what happens at cat shows so that they can make presentations to a judge with confidence.
- Take part in a YES! Presentations with at least THREE different judges.

At all Levels Candidates can work towards an Exceptional Achievement Award, which is a certificate signed by the GCCF Chairman and goes toward the evidence they have collected for completion of their level.

Where can I find more information and application forms?

Our website is www.gccf-yes.co.uk. Here you can find all the information about the programme, health and safety issues, the scheme's requirements, as well as details of our volunteers and of course our application form.

How can Clubs and Show Managers support YES!

The YES! Website gives full details of ways in which clubs and Show Managers can support this scheme. All candidates need to be a junior member of a GCCF member club and we hope many of the shows throughout the year will put on Young Exhibitor Presentation Classes.

YES! KITTEN CLUB

YES! Kitten Club, is the junior arm of the GCCF's Young Exhibitors' Scheme. It is open to any young person from the age they are able to colour pictures and recognise different cat colours and shapes up to the age of 16.

Unlike YES!, where Candidates must demonstrate eligibility for the scheme by meeting a small list of requirements, YES! Kitten Club has no such strictures.

YES! Kitten Club is a new initiative by the GCCF and YES! from November 2016 designed to introduce young people to cats, enabling them to recognise various breeds and the sections of a show hall where they can be found.

There is no outlay for the parents. The I-Spy sheets are free for use. Those front pages completed on show day will enable the young person to claim a free YES! Kitten Club rosette to celebrate their achievement. The backs of the I-Spy sheets all have a picture to colour in, and then either a spot the difference or complete a nursery rhyme activity.

For older children we have the Kitten Club Award which can be given to young people who would like to be more active and help out at a show, either by helping to give out the winning rosettes and/or prize cards by putting them on the cats pens, or by doing other small jobs given out by the Show Manager at the show.

YES! and YES! Kitten Club are both at the GCCF Supreme Show today. Their stand is in the Meet the Cats section of the show hall, with the fabulous QT a highly titled non-pedigree cat looking forward to giving everyone his purrsonal welcome. There are some special YES! Kitten Club I-Spy sheets drawn especially for the show, along with information leaflets about YES! and application forms for anyone wanting to join the scheme. Look out for the soft toy competition. It will be hosted by Sophie Hughes and judged by Saffron Saul, two of our YES! intermediate candidates, alongside Charlie Samuel from the YES! Kitten Club. Wish them both luck won't you, we certainly intend to...

PEDIGREE PETS

Pedigree Pet shall be deemed to mean any cat which falls under at least one of the following categories:

1. A full pedigree cat with or without papers.
2. A cat where one or both parents are Pedigree.
3. A pedigree 'look-a-like' of partly or fully known parentage, that resembles a Pedigree cat because of its conformation and/or coat pattern. These cats may be self with or without white: have tabby, tortie or tortie tabby markings: they may have a ticked, tipped, smoke or pointed pattern in any colour combination or coat length. (LH, SLH or SH).

YES! PROGRAMME

YES! is an educational programme designed to encourage youth participation in the Cat Fancy. It is a structured programme for the growth and development of junior (8 – 16+) exhibitors within the GCCF. We hope to encourage young people to continue to enjoy their hobby as adults and so become the members, steward, judges and show managers of the future.

CELIA LEIGHTON MEMORIAL

TABBY CLASS

Celia Leighton was the GCCF Supreme Show Manger from 2009 – 2016. She is much missed; in her honour this year we have introduced the tabby class, open to all tabby cats, whatever their breed or colour. All tabby cats have similar patterns on their face, an "M" on their forehead and a solid tip to their tails. They have four different coat patterns, Classic, Spotted, Mackerel and Tipped. The Judge for Class for class 1152 this year is Mr S Crow.

SPECIAL KITTEN CLASS 1153

The Special Kitten Class was open to "Any Kitten" already entered at the show. It is what is known as a "Fun Class" meaning there will be no show progression awarded to the winner. The GCCF show definition of a kitten is a cat up to the ages of 9 months. At all GCCF shows, except the Supreme kittens must not be less than 14 weeks of age, however at the Supreme Show kittens must be at least 4 calendar months old on show day.

EXHIBITION PENS

This section includes cats whose owners wish to display them on exhibition instead of putting them in competition. These cats may be examples of new breeds which do not have Preliminary recognition, or highly titled cats which have already have "UK" in their title, as well as past winners of the Supreme Show. Above is an example of a "Decorated Pen". You will see that the vast majority of pens are decorated at the show today. The theme changes each year – this year's theme was "Felines in Fiction".

MEET THE CATS

The Cat Fancy is made up of many Cat Clubs. Some of these are area clubs, for cat enthusiasts living in a particular area; these are usually all-breed clubs and often include non-pedigree pets amongst their breeds. Others are specialist breed clubs which cater for a particular breed or group of breeds throughout the country. Formally known as Club Row – this is the place for you to talk to the Associations, Clubs and Societies about the many different breeds of cats they represent, find out about the cats characteristics and temperaments. How good they are with other pets and children, their dietary requirements, the amount of attention and grooming they'll need to stay not only healthy but in tip top condition. Many of these clubs have information stalls here today that you can take away so you can find the breed which is right for you; and if you ask their owners permission first, and sanitise your hands, it is ok for the most part to stroke and pet these cats.

PICKET FENCE EVENTS PRESENT:

GROOMING WITH TANIA MURRAY

The GCCF is delighted to welcome on stage one of our home grown feline cat care specialists Tania Murray. Tania has shown GCCF for over 19 years and breeds Maine coons under the prefix Isadoryou. Tania has also shown all round the world from the UK countryside to across the pond in the USA.

She has presented live TV with celebrity feline cats of Blue Peter, Socks and Cookie, and for the past 5yrs plus been a key note feline speaker at the National Pet Shows here at the NEC to London Olympia.

Tania welcomes the opportunity to share many years of feline grooming and cat care knowledge and expertise with fellow cat enthusiasts. Recognised as a highly successful Maine coon breeder and Persian show exhibitor alongside the accolade of being the GCCF breeder of the year award in 2014. Tania has also bred the Supreme Kitten Isadoryou Mr Bojangles in 2011, and her Persian Sup GrCh CULLYKHAN HERCULES won Persian Adult three years ago.

The cats she will be using today are, bad boys:

Supreme UK & OG, IGMC QT

Supreme UK & OS, IGMC JAK FROST

Supreme UK & OG, IGMC BARNEY RUBBLES

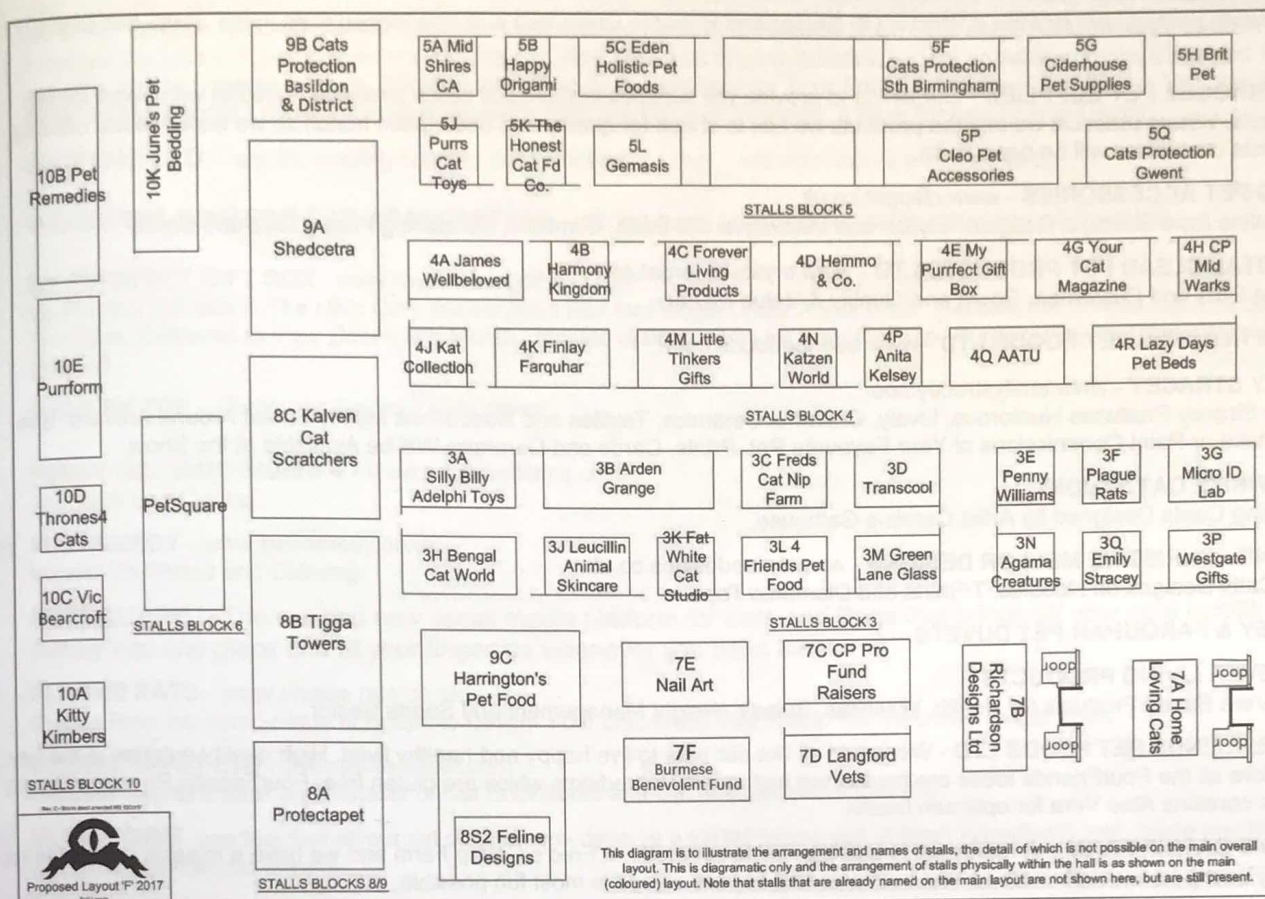

UK & IGrPr SANTILLO FEROMESES MERCURY

At the time of going to press, we don't have the exact times that Tania will begin her demonstrations on the day so do visit the GCCF stand for further details on the day. The Picket fence area is right in front of the stage, look on the back page of the catalogue for details.
